MRS. COOLIDGE GOES AHEAD

Leaves New York Late Wednesday

Itinerary Of Former President's Widow Is Kept Secret On Departure

NAME IS NOT ON PASSENGER LIST

(International News Service.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Her sailing kept secret until after the North German Lloyd liner Bremen had been eased from her pier and was moving toward the sea, Mrs. Grace Coolidge, widow of the late president, today was enroute to Europe on her first trip abroad.

Mrs. Coolidge boarded the liner early yesterday afternoon but officials of the line did not reveal her presence aboard until it was too late for anyone to attempt to interview her. Her name did not appear on the list of passengers.

The president's widow is traveling with Mrs. R. J. Adams and her daughter of Northampton, Mass. They will disembark at Southampton, but how long she will remain in Europe and what her itinerary will be has not been divulged.

Your Income Tax In Brief

No. 16 LOSSES ON STOCK TRANSACTIONS

No gain or loss is recognized for income-tax purposes as a result of the exchange of stock or securities in a corporation solely for stock or securities in another corporation in pursuance of a plan of reorganization to which both corporations are parties or as a result of the exchange of stock or securities in a corporation solely for stock or securities in the same corporation in connection with a recapitalization. Where money or other property is received along with such exchanges, no loss is recognized, although a taxable gain may result. The statute also prohibits the deduction for any loss from the sale or other disposition of stock or securities where the taxpayer, within a period of 30 days before or after the date of sale or other disposition, acquires or enters into a contract or option to acquire substantially identical stock or securities.

Two important changes are made by section 112 of the Revenue Act of 1934. Under section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1932 no taxable gain was recognized as having resulted to the recipient stockholders of a corporation from a distribution of stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation, a party to a reorganization, without the surrender of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made. These provisions are entirely omitted from the Revenue Act of 1934, thus giving such distributions the status of dividend distributions paid in property.

The other important change is in the definition of the term "reorganization" as contained in section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1934. In section 112 (1) (A) of the Revenue Act of 1932 the term "reorganization" is defined to mean "a merger or consolidation (including the acquisition by one corporation of at least a majority of the voting stock and at least a majority of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation, or substantially all the properties of another corporation)." The corresponding provisions of section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1934 define the term "reorganization" as "(A) a statutory merger or consolidation, or (B) the acquisition by one corporation in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock: of at least 80 percent of the voting stock and at least 80 percent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation, or of substantially all the properties of another corporation." The remaining provisions of section 112 (g) (1) are substantially the same as the provisions of section 112 (1) (B), (C), and (D) of the Revenue Act of 1932.

LOCAL ARRANGEMENTS WELL HANDLED FOR LINCOLN DAY SESSIONS

tendances and doctors were on call. Fortunately there were but two calls all day both for women who found the excitement a trifle too much. Another feature was the press room. Representatives of outside newspapers were present and appreciated the thoroughness of the committee. Among the men present were Fred Polanig of the International News Service, C. W. Dressler, of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, Ed. Prendergast of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, John B. Townley of the Pittsburgh Press, Quin Hall, cartoonist of the Sun-Telegraph, Jerry Harshman and Joe Shatto of the Sharon-Herald, A. S. Wilkison of the Beaver Falls Tribune, and others.

Organ Recitals

The two organ recitals were features that were pleasant. Edwin Lewis of New Castle and Mary Gordon of Beaver Falls were the artists who presided at the console.

The Legion Band was an eye filling feature. The snappy uniforms and the snapper playing under the direction of Joe F. Replogle took the crowd by storm.

The Purgill Heart Band of the Beaver Valley did a nice job in heading the parade from the P. & L. E. to the Cathedral.

The KDKA quartet from Pittsburgh entertained the dinner guests with a lot of melodies and the orchestra back of them, a New Castle organization kept the crowd in good humor.

Regis Welsh, of Pittsburgh thought the home made candy booth in the Cathedral lobby was quite a feature. It was handled by the women of the Quota Club. "That's something in politics when home made candy is sold during a political rally," said Welsh.

The Women's Reception committee headed by Sara Sankey McCune did a nice piece of work. Women guests were entertained and the appreciation expressed by visiting women was often heard.

All together the day was a genuine success. Started about 60 days ago as a western county Lincoln Day celebration the affair developed into a political trading post and all day long groups conferred about the coming election. The day was a vest pocket edition of a national Republican convention.

their appearance on many of the highways. Drivers who are unaccustomed to any highway should proceed with caution, as some of the heaped up pavements appear rather dangerous.

A south side youth today is nursing lacerations of the knees and hands—just because he chiseled a ride on the back of a truck Tuesday afternoon. The truck was traveling at a fair rate of speed. The driver slowed down in going around an alley and down went the youngster on his hands and knees.

Just in case you are interested in knowing: There are but 37 days left before the first day of spring. The date is Friday, March 20.

Tomorrow is St. Valentine's Day. Judging from the number of Valentines that have been purchased during the past week, an unusual number will change hands Friday.

Adorning the window of a West Long avenue barber shop, is a huge plant bearing three lemons, the size of oranges. The cold weather has not affected the plant in any way.

An attractive large flag, flying on top of the New Castle hospital building, Tuesday, formed an appealing sight to the eyes.

Croton avenue cars, two of them, were detained at the end of the line at Croton school this morning for quite sometime, owing to the heavy schedule, making office employees and school teachers late for their duties. When the cars finally got started, they barely crept along over the snow-covered tracks.

New Castle can boast of having one young man born on Lincoln's birthday whose name is Lincoln and, in fact, the only one in Lawrence county. The young man's name is Lincoln Thomas, who resides on N. Mercer street, this city. He celebrated his 27th birthday anniversary on February 12, while it happened to be the late president's 126th anniversary.

Pa News noticed a number of youngsters coasting and skating over the ice on the Neshaunock creek by the North street bridge on Wednesday afternoon. While there seemed to be plenty of ice, there was quite a wide space along side the bank that was not frozen, and water was running its usual course.

was so important to the welfare of the nation that the Republicans are determined to "power" said Judge Chambers. "Here in this group is a nucleus of Republican strength that can be enlarged and expanded in your own home counties if you will only forget factional differences and remember that the party good is paramount to the good of the individual."

William H. Heck of South Walnut street, who shook hands with Abraham Lincoln when Mr. Heck was just a boy, was introduced and received a thundering ovation from the men and women present.

Present Pageant.

At 2:30 o'clock the members of the Lawrence County Bar association presented the pageant, "The Making of the Constitution," and to the visitors it was a revelation. In colonial costume, the attorneys presented the impressive work with a dignity and a histrionic ability that kept the vast crowd in their seats until it was over. Prior to the pageant Edwin Lewis presented an organ recital on the Greer Memorial organ.

At 4:15 the forum was held which was addressed by prominent Republicans of the counties represented. Attorney Fred Fruit of Sharon presided and sounded the keynote of harmony in his opening address. John Higgins of Warren county followed him and in his remarks scored the regimentation of industry practiced by the present national administration.

Mrs. George Hemphill of Beaver county, state president of the Council of Republican Women, contributed the best bon mot of the day when she said "Thomas Jefferson found the Democratic party and Franklin D. Roosevelt has dumfounded it." Mrs. Hemphill pleaded for the active participation of women in the Republican cause in the coming days and prophesied victory for the ticket.

Judge Marion D. Patterson presented a scholarly address in the short time allotted to him and scored the record of inefficiency of the present administration. Frank A. McClung of Butler county spoke of the cordial relations between Butler and Lawrence counties and bespoke an even closer spirit of cooperation.

Lobby Jammed.

Not all of the guests were in the auditorium. The lobby of the Cathedral was filled at afternoon with leaders of the many counties who took advantage of the occasion to further the cause of Republicanism in their counties and congressional districts.

Perhaps the chief topic of discussion was the effect of the proposed candidacy of State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor for auditor-general. While Mr. Taylor was not without adherents in the groups, the preponderance of opinion seemed to be that his candidacy would hardly be advisable this time and that a western county man should be named.

In the center of many discussions were such men as General Edward Martin, former state chairman, who came here from Washington with Edward Carruthers and a group of Republicans to sound out the sentiment of the western county leaders in their choice for president and for state officers.

Party Leaders Here.

Former County Commissioner C. C. McGovern of Allegheny county was present and met hundreds of his friends here. State Senator Peter Graff of Armstrong county and State Senator Edward Bennett of Indiana, traded opinions with such men as State Senator Alonzo S. Batchelor of Mercer county, Frank Moltrop of Beaver Falls, Frank Fair of Mercer county, former State Senator Frank Fay of Greenville, John Morrison of Greenville and entering into the discussions were leaders of the party in Lawrence county.

It was a day of politics, practical and otherwise. Booms were started and punctured, noses were raised and shattered, but through it all ran a thread of unity which will go far towards restoring the Republican party to power in November.

Said Paul R. Engle, the field representative of the Lincoln Club who did the organization work of the celebration, "I was confident that New Castle would come through in a big way but the folks went farther than even I anticipated."

Said Major J. Ed. Boyle, marshal of the Lincoln Club, "I know what New Castle can do. I had some New Castle boys with me in the Argentine and the successful way in which New Castle carried out the day's program was typical."

Only Normal Process

Said Dr. Robert B. Greer of Butler, "Really nothing remarkable about the splendid way New Castle handled the day. Anyone who knows New Castle like I do expects big things. I only wish Fred Rentz could have been here to enjoy it."

Said Mrs. George R. Hemphill of Beaver Falls, state president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, "A perfectly lovely day and the day that we need more of in Republican circles."

Col. Eric Fisher Wood of Pittsburgh, "I'm certainly glad I came up for the day. It was a revelation to me and the Lincoln Club should be mighty proud of itself."

Said H. J. Crawford of Emlenton, Venango county, "We feel more than repaid for our trip from Venango county. The day was a sparkling success."

And say all of us in New Castle, "We're pleased they brought the celebration to New Castle. Come back again."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty amount which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS—which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS.

VALENTINE DANCE AND STAG AT FIELD CLUB

Activities at the New Castle Field club this week have created much interest among its membership socially, and the program will be climaxed Saturday evening with a dance in celebration of St. Valentine's Day. This affair will be in progress shortly after 9 o'clock in the club ballroom, and is open to members and their guests. A number of the younger set will also participate.

On Friday night, February 14, a stag party will be held, which promises to be of interest. The usual program of card playing and other contests will be featured, with prizes to be awarded. Lunch will follow.

The committee in charge of the dance is composed of Mr. and C. L. Shira, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Whitaker and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Bau, who have engaged a popular orchestra for this date.

The New Castle Field club has a crew constantly at hand to keep the drives leading to the club cleared of snow, enabling their guests to get through without difficulty.

BUILDERS ANNOUNCE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

A pep meeting was held Wednesday evening for the Builders of New Castle, in the Cathedral, when plans were completed for a gigantic membership drive which is already in progress. The drive will be open until April 1, and it is urged that local young men between the ages of 15 and 21 who are interested make contact with either Walter Conover, president, or Ed. Schlosberg, secretary, for further details.

The usual routine of business was conducted in their lodge room last evening, and they rounded out details for their initiation ceremonies, to be held following the first meeting in April.

1923 S. L. Club Meeting
Most enjoyable, was the assembly of 1923 S. L. club members Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. E. F. Woody, on Cedar street. She entertained at their usual event, cards featuring the leisure period, with three tables of players competing for honors. Mrs. Frank Zimmerman and Mrs. Albert Sullivan were winners of the prizes, given for holding honor scores.

After partaking of dainty refreshments served by their hostess, the group departed. Plans for their next meeting were not completed.

Jolly Quilters
Mrs. M. R. Bates of Beckford street was hostess to the 1934 Jolly Quilters Wednesday, when a quilting period was enjoyed before and after a tureen dinner at noon.

The work will be continued at the next assembly on February 26, in the home of Mrs. Gladys Dickson on Beckford street.

Q. A. C. Club Meeting
Mrs. James Flynn of Edison avenue, was hostess Wednesday evening to associates of the Q. A. C. club members in her home. She entertained informally with cards, tables of 500 being in play, with novel trophies being carried off by Mrs. Fred Stickel, Mrs. Ross Bevan, Mrs. John Logue and Mrs. Edward Hanna.

A delicious repast was later served by the hostess, with Mrs. Frank Borwick assisting. Valentines and cupid were cleverly used in the table appointments, carrying out a color scheme of red and white.

In two weeks, Mrs. John Logue, of Boroline street, will receive the club at her residence.

C. M. Club
A meeting of the C. M. club was held recently, at the home of Miss Anne Warner, 14 Ralph avenue. Hours were spent with dancing and various other amusements, and luncheon, at a later hour, was still additional pleasure.

The next meeting will take place in the home of Miss Anne Mizer, March 5.

NORTH BEAVER CLUB HEARS TIMELY TALKS

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gilmore were hosts to the North Beaver Garden club for the February meeting Wednesday evening in their home on the Bessemer-Mt. Jackson road.

After the transaction of business directed by the president, Mrs. George Clark, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. James Gardner, who had prepared an interesting program. A talk on "What's New This Year in Flowers and Vegetables" was presented by J. W. Fullerton, and a paper prepared by Mrs. A. J. McCulla on the subject "The Indian Currant" was read by Mrs. Howard Gilmore.

Howard Gilmore gave a worthwhile report of the farm show held recently in Harrisburg, which he attended.

On March 11 the next meeting will take place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Andrews, Mt. Jackson.

DAUGHTERS OF LYDIA SEW AT HOSPITAL

Daughters of Lydia of the First Presbyterian church are to be commended for the splendid turn-out at the Jameson Memorial hospital Wednesday morning when they sewed on garments to be used in the institution from 9 o'clock until 12 o'clock noon, in the Solarium.

Much work was accomplished at this session and they were assisted by other women of the city who joined their circle to further this most excellent work. The Daughters of Lydia have charge of these meetings during the month of February. Their next assembly will be held Wednesday, the 26th, due to a recess being called the coming week. No meeting will be held on Wednesday, the 19th.

The same invitation stands for all other women interested in this project to be present on February 26 at 9 a. m. at the Jameson hospital, and help in completing garments and other items so necessary for such institutions.

MRS. AIKEN'S CLASS PRESENTS TEA PARTY

Amid gala decorations in keeping with the valentine season, Mrs. Esther Aiken's class of girls from the First Christian church delightfully entertained their mothers and friends Wednesday night in the parlor of the church. The affair was in the form of a silver tea with about twenty-five persons participating in the entertainment of the evening.

A very elaborately arranged, and interesting program helped to while away the evening for the guests. The program was prepared by girls from the class under the direction of Mrs. Aiken to whom the success of the entire affair may be credited.

Later in the evening, at the close of the program, tea was served to the guests by a most efficient committee consisting of Mrs. Esther Aiken, Mrs. Roy Waite, and Eileen Waite.

Following this the members of the class convened for a short business session at which time the date of March 11 was set to hold the next regular meeting. This will take place in the parlor of the church.

Q. A. C. Club Meeting
Mrs. James Flynn of Edison avenue, was hostess Wednesday evening to associates of the Q. A. C. club members in her home. She entertained informally with cards, tables of 500 being in play, with novel trophies being carried off by Mrs. Fred Stickel, Mrs. Ross Bevan, Mrs. John Logue and Mrs. Edward Hanna.

A delicious repast was later served by the hostess, with Mrs. Frank Borwick assisting. Valentines and cupid were cleverly used in the table appointments, carrying out a color scheme of red and white.

In two weeks, Mrs. John Logue, of Boroline street, will receive the club at her residence.

C. M. Club
A meeting of the C. M. club was held recently, at the home of Miss Anne Warner, 14 Ralph avenue. Hours were spent with dancing and various other amusements, and luncheon, at a later hour, was still additional pleasure.

MRS. E. McClymonds IS AGAIN HONORED

Mrs. Milton Reiber and Miss Mollie Livingston were charming hostesses Tuesday evening when they entertained jointly at the home of the former on the Wilmington road, a group of friends to do honor to Mrs. Edwin McClymonds, nee Eva Houk. The affair marked another of a series of delightful events given for Mrs. McClymonds and was carried out in the form of a miscellaneous shower.

Bridge held attention during the early hours with attractive awards falling to Frances Gibson and Mrs. Edwin McClymonds. Miss Margaret Davis received the traveling prize. Afterwards, the guests were served a dainty collation at small tables suggestively appointed in valentine pretensions. The hostesses were aided in serving by Mrs. C. R. Hutchinson and Mrs. Albert Snyder, this feature being enjoyed by candle light.

The evening was climaxed when Mrs. McClymonds was presented with a huge valentine box tied with large bows of red and white. Upon investigating its contents as directed, she found an array of beautiful and serviceable gifts to use in her future home.

MISS ETHEL BREWSTER IS ENGAGED TO MARRY

To announce the coming marriage of Ethel J. Brewster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Brewster, of the Hileman apartments, to Douglas Lorne Leaverton, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Leaverton, of Painesville, Ohio, a shower was given by Misses Dorothy Depp and Gladys Gortley at the home of the bride-elect last evening.

Bride and Monopoly were the pastimes of the evening and the victors were Mrs. G. W. Patterson and Miss Edna Roberts.

Red roses were the center-brighteners for each table. The white favors, when lunch was served, revealed the news of the engagement with the words: "Ethel-Lorne, Early Spring."

Birthday Celebrated
To do honor to Miss Charlotte McIver, members of the Merry Mad Caps gathered in her home on Highland Place, Wednesday night, to help in the celebration of her birthday. Her sister, Miss Evelyn McIver, acted as co-hostess for this birthday party and her part was performed most efficiently.

The evening hours were whiled away with the playing of games and the enjoyment of musical numbers.

During the business session, it was decided to hold the next regular meeting of the club in the home of Miss Louise Park on Euclid avenue. This will be in two weeks, but the exact date will be announced at a later time.

FOUR BIRTHDAYS ARE HONORED LAST NIGHT

February birthdays abound in the Kruger family of 112 Smithfield St. and so a mass birthday party was given by Mrs. C. G. Kruger Wednesday night in honor of her three sons, Louis, Carl and Joseph, and her father, Louis Preisel, who is 77 years old.

Guests numbered 38 and all found much pleasure in an evening of card playing and monopoly.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Kruger, assisted by her daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Anna Blake and Mrs. Joseph Kruger.

P. G. C. Club
Mrs. John Binder was a delightful hostess on Wednesday evening, to the P. G. C. Club at her home on Liberty street. Two tables of 500 were in play, the pretty awards being captured by Mrs. Binder and Mrs. Michael Welter. Mrs. Geraldine Mills was a visitor.

Valentine appointments made a dainty lunch most attractive and it was served with the aid of Mrs. Andrew Paulini, who invited the group to her home on Beckford street, on February 25.

Castle Club Gathers.
Members of the Castle club met in the Blaine street home of Mrs. Carl Wallace this week.

Two tables of bridge were in play and honors went to Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. Minnie Dufford and Mrs. Carl C. Lockard. A delicious lunch was served at the close.

In two weeks Mrs. Frank W. Hill, Elizabeth street, will be hostess to the club.

NAVAL NOTES
By M. L. NIXON
Naval Recruiter, Second Floor Federal Building

Most people are under the impression that the rudder of a ship is its means of steering, but many a ship has been kept on its course by means of its propellers alone. This is done by speeding up the propellers on one side of the ship and slowing the ones on the other side. This is not possible on a ship having only one propeller.

During the Boxer Rebellion in China, navy men repaired a railroad line from Taku Bar to Tientsin, China, and operated it successfully with men taken from the engineering department of United States naval vessels that were operating in the northern waters at the time. This railroad is in operation today and is the branch line from the trans-Siberian railway to Shanghai, China.

Nautical Novelties: Some types of naval ships have billboards but they are totally devoid of posters or advertising matter, the "billboard" being a plate of steel where the anchor is fixed when not in use.

A messenger is not a man but a small line or rope, thrown or shot by means of a special gun to another ship by hauling a larger rope that is too heavy to be handled by hand.

There is a spot in the Atlantic ocean, approximately 375 miles south of the gold coast, where it is possible for a ship to be neither in longitude nor latitude.

EAST SIDE GARDENERS HEAR OF CONSERVATION

East Side Garden club members thoroughly enjoyed an innovation from their usual program for the February meeting Wednesday, when they had an appetizing hot luncheon in the Third U. P. church before the afternoon's program in the home of Mrs. W. R. McKnight on Adams street.

Owen P. Fox, city forester, was the guest speaker yesterday, giving a decidedly enlightening and interesting talk on "Conservation." He stressed the protection of bird life, as these little feathered creatures in turn protect the trees, and reminded the women to feed the birds this cold weather.

At the business session following in charge of the president, Mrs. Harry Sturdevant, future projects which the club will sponsor were outlined. Plans were also discussed for the valentine party in which the club with their families will participate, Friday evening, in Orr's hall.

This event will be in the nature of a tureen dinner at 6:30 with an entertainment program afterwards. The committee is headed by Mrs. C. L. Mantz, who is being ably assisted by Mrs. James Kennedy, Mrs. Arthur Martin, Mrs. Louis Garrett and Mrs. Earl McKnight.

The next regular meeting of the Garden club will be held on March 11 at the home of Mrs. Fred Remley on East Washington street.

PLEASANT AFFAIR FOR W. F. AND N. M. CLUB

Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Katharine McClintock at 705 County Line street, members of the W. F. and N. M. club gathered for their regular business and social meeting. Mrs. Martha Moncrief served as assistant hostess to Mrs. McClintock performing her duties most efficiently.

Evening hours were spent in the playing of 500, with prizes for high scores going to Miss Jessie Harper and Mrs. Jessie Harris. Various other forms of amusement were enjoyed following which a delicious luncheon was served to the members present who were gathered around tables decorated in colors of red and white to commemorate the valentine season.

During the business session, it was decided to hold the next meeting on February 26 in the home of Mrs. Helen Dunlap on Harrison street. Mrs. Bernetta Milke will act as co-hostess for this affair. One special guest, Miss Hester Masters was present.

CASTLE BRIDGE CLUB AT MRS. STODDARD'S

Mrs. George E. Stoddard proved a very pleasing hostess in her Wilmington avenue home Wednesday evening to members of the Castle Bridge club.

Bridge was the chief diversion, with trophies to Mrs. C. S. Jarrett, Mrs. Merle Frances and Mrs. F. D. Perrine. Miss Lillian Moran was a special guest. At a later hour a delicious lunch was served at a large table having a valentine centerpiece and valentine suggestions were used in the lunch. Mrs. Stoddard was assisted by Mrs. C. S. Jarrett.

The next meeting of the club will be in two weeks, at the home of Mrs. Harold M. Leach.

Bid-A-Wee Club.

The Bid-A-Wee club members were entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. F. Fabian, Court street. Contests in 500 filled in the hours. Mrs. Merle Seamans and Mrs. Shirley Hartman winning the prizes. In serving refreshments later, the hostess was assisted by Miss Hartman. Valentine appointments predominated in the table decorations, carrying out a color theme of red and white.

Of special interest was the observance of the birthday anniversary of Eleanor Sprigler, who was showered with a number of dainty hankies in behalf of the club girls.

February 25 the group will meet in the home of Mrs. Seamans on North Beaver street.

DESSERT-BRIDGE AT CLUB, WEDNESDAY

Mrs. J. E. Elliott presided as hostess Wednesday afternoon at the New Castle Field club over the dessert-bridge planned for the women members. A good number participated, the doors opening shortly after 1 p. m. After the serving, card contests claimed attention with Mrs. J. R. Rick and Mrs. J. A. McNeil being fortunate winners of lovely honor score prizes.

Mrs. C. J. Callahan will fill the hostess role in two weeks, when a party of the same nature will be conducted.

TIDE TURNS CITYWARD

THE tide of population which flowed from the city back to the country in 1932 is again coming into the cities to complicate unemployment relief work there and to show the futility of farm colonization efforts.

There were country families moving into the cities and city families moving out into the country in 1932 but when the ledger was balanced at the end of the year the farm had made a considerable gain. Since then the population has continued to move but a survey of 146,417 farms indicates a net gain for the cities over the entire country of 227,000 persons.

Here is an ally for the government in its efforts to curtail farm production, that figure representing many abandoned farms. But unless that quarter of a million people found employment in the cities the hebra has not increased the nation's buying power to any considerable degree.

One thing is certain, no farmer moves to the city today in the hope of finding employment.

This is a situation that must take care of itself. The government cannot say to one family that it must live in the country and to another that its place is in the city. Judging from the recent reversal of trends, many people cannot even decide that for themselves. Even when times were good there was much going back and forth between farm and city. But it is something that will take care of itself as national recovery continues to progress.

QUIETING DOWN

Modernism is beginning to confess diffidently that maybe it hasn't been so smart as it thought it was. A writer in a current magazine, who charts the direction of winds of public opinion and points out the course of flying straws, says that America is homesick for the past.

People are taking to simpler music, more staid and wholesome pictures and to amusements that are not so fast and furious. "There is," says the writer, "a mighty wave of homesickness behind it all, a sort of instinctive turning back to happier, more easily understood times and all the habits, fashions, furniture, mental and physical, that were familiar scenery."

There is nothing abnormal in this readjustment. Society, which is individuals acting in groups, has about the same promptings that influence the conduct of individuals. It has the advantage, though, that it continually renews its youth and can correct its mistakes. And, whereas, like the individual, it may at times get a little wild in experimenting to see how it can enlarge its satisfactions without too heavy a penalty, it is pretty sure to repent and tone down its pitch when the novelty wears off and the dangers begin to loom.

This tendency to revalue the past and to discover that there is joy and satisfaction with greater contentment and safety in the quieter ways of living, always recurs after a period of extravagance.

TIME TO CALL A HALT

In sidetracking $29,000,000 of appropriations which President Roosevelt had asked for some of his pet projects, including the Passamaquoddy Dam and the Florida ship canal, the house committee expresses no opinion on the merits of these schemes, but insists that they should first be authorized by law.

Under the great leeway allowed it, the PWA has allotted $12,200,000 for these projects as a starter. The Maine dam will require $36,732,000 more and the Florida canal $138,000,000. Operations have begun under the guise of "emergency relief," which covers a multitude of dubious schemes for spending the taxpayers' money.

Of these two mammoth projects Passamaquoddy has been described by experts as sheer waste and the Florida project as a potential disaster. Florida farmers fear it. The Geologic Survey has warned against the effects of the canal excavations on the fertility of the soil, through the drainage of water supplies that now circulate through the porous limestone. Shipping companies say they would have no use for the canal and that it would never pay.

The House Appropriations Committee says it has not been influenced by these considerations, but it draws the line at granting more money for projects that have no legal authorization. It is entirely right. And if congress only had a little more backbone it would refuse such authorization to harebrained schemes that spell senseless extravagance besides injury to a large number of helpless citizens.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WHY MR. LANDON?

The public attention seems to be centering these hectic days on Governor Landon among all the Republican presidential aspirants. Right now, Senator Borah is garnering most of the publicity, along with Colonel Knox, but it can scarcely be denied that Landon's budget-balancing feats have made the keenest impression.

And this pre-election straw shows pretty accurately the way the wind is blowing, as does the somewhat frantic and not altogether defensible sudden efforts of the Roosevelt administration to "set the government's book-keeping in order"—like, for instance, the decision to cancel congressional authorization for certain federal lending agencies.

It will be admitted, of course, that it was more or less an economic necessity for the Roosevelt administration to check the deflation of 1932 and 1933 by emergency spending. But the general public has never looked upon the depression and never will—as anything else but an emergency. Hence, the present policies of inflationary borrowing and spending begin to look permanent as government policies.

That's why people grow uneasy. That's why they look to the recent Landon address at Topeka as that of a man who knows how to put his feet on the ground of sound economic policy for governmental purposes—and keep them there. The governor dealt wisely with the soundness of paying as you go, and the folly of piling up huge debts.

Back in 1933, in his famed but ill-kept economy message to congress, President Roosevelt said:

"Too often in recent history, liberal governments have been wrecked on the rocks of loose fiscal policy."

The new deal of which all Democrats boasted so proudly a couple of years ago and at which Jeffersonian Democrats now gaze with fear and trembling, is foundering upon those very rocks—and Governor Landon looks, to many folks, like the potential skipper who can haul the ship of state off the breakers and get her back on an even keel again.

Lincoln's Day.
Newspapers Are Useful.
A Leisure Class, Also.
Women And Civilization.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

ABRAHAM LINCOLN was born 127 years ago Tuesday and murdered 71 years ago. Without Nancy Hanks there would have been no Abraham Lincoln.

THE SUPREME COURT says: "The free press stands as one of the great interpreters between the government and the people. To let it be fettered is to fetter ourselves."

Certainly, the newspaper is to a nation what speech is to an individual, and it is to the crowd what a looking glass is to the individual. History will judge a people by its newspapers, its laws, its theaters, and it will have reason to criticize us.

MR. J. PIERPONT MORGAN, repeating what Aristotle said before him, said civilization needs a leisure class, and defined as the "leisure class those that keep a hired girl. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt thought that and wise, improves that definition, a leisure class, for her, is made up of individuals that "have sufficient economic security, and sufficient leisure to find opportunity for a variety of satisfactions in life."

All of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

"SKIP IT!"
Two youngsters are having a quarrel.

I hear them. I'm eavesdropping. I'm shameless about it. I want to know what they are like, these children who were born 25 or 30 years after I came into the world. . . . These youngsters who seem so self-sufficient, so sure of themselves. Born later than those of my age, born into a world that's different, with different influences striking upon them. . . . Who seem at times to be just as we were, at other times so different that they hardly seem to be of the same species. . . . Such mixtures of adolescent and maturity.

Well, I was listening and wondering when their difference of opinion would break out in harsh words, bitterness or even tears.

But just at that instant when the outbreak seemed inevitable one of them said:

"Oh, skip it!"
So they "skipped" it.

They dropped the subject there and didn't go back to it. No sultriness, no bitterness, no tears. . . . They went on to talk about something else and the "difference" was wiped away and the surface of their relations was as clear as a newly washed window pane.

"They skipped" it, skipped clean over and went ahead. And I don't think either of them brooded about it, felt "hurt," or gave a second thought to their quarrel.

And I liked it, admired it, approved it.

Don't you?
You may not like some of the things that youngsters of today are doing, thinking, saying. You may believe that they are "skipping" too much of the richness, the fineness of life and taking too many short cuts to what they want. A little too rude, too abrupt, from your point of view, too selfish.

But you will admit, won't you, that you admire the ability they have to "skip" the futile and the foolish and the nonsensical and their refusal to waste their emotions on the non-essential.

"Skip it!" isn't a bad road sign for life.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WITH THEIR ANCESTORS
A special train, traveling from Chicago to San Francisco, recently carried the bodies of 400 Chinese who were buried in Mount Auburn Cemetery, near Chicago, during the past seventeen years. These bodies were shipped across the Pacific to the homeland of the Orientals, where they will be buried beside their ancestors in cemeteries all over that vast country.

Wealthy Chinese organized and financed the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association, one of whose activities is to see that Chinese dying in this country are ultimately buried with their fathers in the homeland, provided they express such a desire in their wills.

Nearly all Chinese do ask in their will to be buried with their ancestors. Ancestor worship is yet the moving spirit of the Chinese.

We can't imagine how those pioneer farmers of a hundred years ago cleared the forests, drained the swamps and laid out those lovely farms without the advice of the Department of Agriculture. And another thing we can't figure out is why those farmers lived at all when they knew nothing of calories or vitamins.

Isn't science grand? It now saves millions of infants to grow up and be scientifically killed in warfare.

According to statistics fewer automobile accidents occur on Wednesday than on any other day of the week. Also we are told that the safest time to drive is between six and seven o'clock in the morning. Now don't all start driving at these statistics.

In answer to a query a local high school girl says Solomon was the wisest man because he had so many wives to advise him. But in our fair land the law only permits one wife and we feel certain the brain-trusters are not bigamists. Draw your own conclusions.

Our neighbor says things must be getting better; some folks are taking their noses from grindstones and turning them up again.

"Well, I certainly got the breaks today," a prominent local doctor remarked to his wife as he returned home in the evening, following that real icy day.

"Yeah," quipped his spouse.

SOUNDED SILLY
Little Rose, daughter of an East Side couple, finds lots of things going on at the age of seven that she can't understand.

The other night, at the dinner hour, an announcer on the radio was giving the schedule for the remainder of the evening's program. He related that at 8 o'clock there would be on, at 9 o'clock that would be on; at 10 o'clock, something else, and so on until the station closed.

"How silly," said little Rose, who goes to bed at 8 o'clock. "Why do they have all that going on when everyone's in bed?"

Perhaps one reason why there are so many filling station robberies is that the observant bandits note that there is where the most of the money goes.

There are a lot of people who are going to junk their radios if the liquor people don't quit putting their advertisements on the air. Even folks who drink liquor are disgusted with a program of this kind.

New spring suits for women are said to be made of masculine fabrics and along masculine lines. But women cannot wear men's clothes like a man. Few of them have the shape for one thing, and those who do wouldn't like to advertise the fact when curves are coming back in style.

A certain East Side man, recently married, has been having some difficulty in realizing his bonds of matrimony, and persists in introducing his wife by her maiden name. As a result, he has a new answer for the oft-answered query: When is the honeymoon over?

"My honeymoon," he says, "will be over when I start introducing my wife as Mrs."

In France some American negroes were sitting beside the road, away behind the battle lines watching troops moving forward to the front. These negroes were commenting on the names of the regiments which were recruited, as "Kentish Rifles," "Northumberland Lancers," "Third Yorkshire Infantry," and so forth.

At these British troops marched by, one of the negroes took delight in calling out the name or number of the regiment. Suddenly down the road came a regiment of Highlanders in kilts. The negroes had never before seen a "kiltie regiment" and one of them cried: "My! My! Look dere, Sam, what an dat? Dey is too big for women and dey can't be men 'cause dey is wearing skirts; what do you-all s'pose dey is?"

"Why," said Sam, "dey is dat Middlesex regiment."

Internal Strife In Parties.
Political Heads Are Alarmed.
Cannot Fool Economic Laws.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The political writer of a New York Republican paper asserts that seldom previously have there been so many fights within the Republican party.

He believes the Republicans may throw their "opportunity" away.

As a matter of fact, both the Republican and Democratic parties are involved in a struggle within themselves between progress and reaction.

Party leaders shudder at such an interpretation and try—as does President Roosevelt—to please both factions. But the tidal movement of events is too much. The struggle intensifies, rather than lessens.

WALK WHITHER?
The Al Smiths, the Raskobs, the du Ponts threaten to walk out of the Democratic party.

And other potent men, politically and financially, threaten to walk out of the Republican party if Senator William E. Borah is nominated.

(Simone D. Fess, former Old Guard Republican senator from Ohio, said the other day he would "take a walk" if Senator Borah were nominated.

"If you are going to vote for a New Dealer, why not vote for President Roosevelt? If the liability for the New Deal is to be placed anywhere let it be placed on the Democrats, not on the Republicans."

There are many Republicans like Fess. If a Borah is nominated and they cannot walk into a new ultra-conservative party, they would rather vote for Mr. Roosevelt and shoulder the "blame" on him rather than elect a Borah, who (they believe) isn't so sound on money.

But where will the Al Smiths, the Raskobs and the du Ponts go? Even billionnaires cannot found a party over night.

Will they become a vanishing group?

"SMART" POLITICS?
Local Democratic leaders are saying that President Roosevelt is playing a wise game. (That remains to be seen.) They say that his efforts at balancing the budget, although virtually supporting every state in the union with federal funds, is causing him to be looked upon as a "sound" money man able to the same time to appease inflationists and share-the-wealthers.

Business men, these local Democratic leaders infer, may swing over to Mr. Roosevelt in November as "self-protection" against unsound money—the only thing they fear more than Mr. Roosevelt's "communism."

That kind of talk angers the Republicans. The Socialists and the Communists beyond measure. Thus, it may be good campaign ammunition.

ECONOMIC TIDE
In the end, however, nothing will prevail before economic readjustments except the readjustments themselves.

Whoever is in the presidential office at that critical period, whether Democrat or Republican, probably will be damned as a Communist. For he will be swept along by the economic tidal wave.

"The people (including the politicians) may delude themselves concerning prosperity, but they cannot fool Old Man Economics."

As Carlton A. Shively, financial editor of the New York Sun, remarks:

"No great pessimism need to be indulged in over the outlook for securities sensitive to farm purchasing power, on near term view, but on longer term the affair will grow worse unless some economic blowing be done at the roots, i. e., stimulation of foreign trade through lowering of barriers and a halt to the rising cost of living for industrial workers."

FAVORITE SONS
The Republican Old Guard is finding that its "favorite son" plan is not working this year. Borah, of course, is the reason.

"Favorite sons" in states which have no real presidential contender are straw men. When Old Guard leaders put forth "favorite sons", they are putting forth merely themselves.

The bosses of each state then can go behind the scenes at the national convention and trade the delegations for a good political price.

The bosses would not trade their delegations for Borah—but against him.

Thus we see Borah entered in Ohio as an opponent of a "favorite son"—trying to forestall the Old Guard from trading at the convention.

Male Pheasants To Be Released In Early Spring

Two Thousand Ringnecks Are Wintered At Jordan State Game Farm

SPRING RELEASE IS INNOVATION AT FARM

Farm Also Has 1,500 Hens—Expects Shipment Of Mongolian Pheasants

Not only were more ringneck pheasants raised and shipped from the Jordan State Game Farm during 1935 than any previous year since the establishment of the farm, but the officials of the Game Commission and the majority of the hunters feel that more important than the increase in the number of birds released is the fact that two thousand of the male birds raised last summer were held over winter and will be distributed in the spring through a breeding season in the wild before facing the firing line of an open hunting season.

Use Covered Fields
Senior Game Propagator V. T. Warfel explains that it was impossible to hold those birds over winter at the game farm due to the erection of additional covered holding fields last summer and fall. It is the plan of the Game Commission to construct more of this type of holding fields at the Jordan Farm this summer and thus equip the farm for holding five to six thousand male pheasants through the winter for spring release each year. While the cost of holding that number of birds over winter will possibly cause a reduction in the number of birds hatched and raised at the farm, the Game Commission and the majority of the sportsmen feel that five to six thousand male pheasants released in the wild in the spring are worth more than two or three times that number of weeks old birds released during late summer when they must pass through a hunting season and the hardships of wintering in the wild before a breeding season.

Because these birds have been kept at the game farm through the winter does not mean that they are tame birds, but on the contrary they are good husky full-winged birds and not as tame as some of those that spent the winter in the wild, and due to heavy snows were forced to seek food in the vicinity of farm buildings.

The birds held at the game farms through the winter are held in pens 300 by 120 feet in size (an area of approximately one and one-fourth acres each), the tops of which are completely covered with wire netting so neither wing clipping or brailing are necessary to hold them and which permits plenty of flying for strong wing development. Neither are they housed during the winter but are provided only such shelter as a lean-to constructed of corn stalks or a few rough boards will afford, and they retreat to those shelters only during the most severe weather so they are as well hardened as a bird that has wintered in the wild, and in better condition for the breeding season due to having an abundance of feed during the winter.

Expect Mongolian Shipment
In addition to the birds held for spring release the Jordan Farm also has on hand about fifteen hundred choice ringneck pheasant hens from which to select breeders for the coming season, and a shipment of 150 pure Mongolian pheasants from northern breeders is expected as soon as weather conditions permit safe shipping. The Mongolian is a "ringneck" considered by most sportsmen, especially the bird dog men, as a superior game bird. The Mongolian male is of darker or more bronze color with none of the lighter green of the Chinese ringneck showing in the back feathers and usually has a more perfect and slightly broader "ring" or white collar. They are shorter legged than the Chinese ringneck, hence do not usually run as far but take to wing when disturbed or frightened which makes them more desirable as a game bird and affords them better protection from predatory animals. It is the plan of the Game Commission, by careful selection and breeding to gradually build up a flock of full-blooded Mongolian breeders at the Jordan farm and introduce more Mongolian blood into the ringneck flocks thus producing a better sporting bird.

Large 1935 Production
Approximately 22,000 ringneck pheasants were raised at the Jordan Farm during the 1935 season, nineteen thousand two hundred and fifty were shipped out for distribution in 31 counties in the western part of the state of which Lawrence County received 1,000, 2,000 are being held for spring release and several hundred were held in reserve to number from which to select breeding stock and to replace old breeders shipped out or which escape or are lost.

In addition to the birds raised at the farm 3,700 day-old ringneck pheasant chicks were furnished to sportsmen who provided proper brooding equipment for raising them and 27,000 eggs were shipped for hatching by sportsmen. The game farm is financed entirely by the state game fund which is supported by the sale of hunters licenses throughout the state, penalties paid for violation of the game laws, etc., and is thus financed entirely by the hunters of the state without costing the taxpayer anything unless he is a hunter. No game or eggs are sold from the farm, and all game shipped from the farm, or raised from eggs furnished by the farm, must be released on lands which are not posted against hunting, thus giving the licensed hunter the opportunity of hunting the game which his contribution to the game fund has made it possible to produce.

All game and eggs from the state game farms are distributed only on orders of the Harrisburg office of the Game Commission and all applications for eggs for hatching must be made through the district game protector in charge of the county where the birds are to be released. All game for distribution is shipped to the game protector in charge of the county in which it is to be released, the game farm having no further part in distribution. Visitors are always welcome at the Jordan State Game Farm where in addition to the ringnecks, a number of fancy or ornamental pheasants are kept in exhibition pens for the entertainment and instruction of the public.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

P. T. A. IS USEFUL
When at its best, the Parent-Teacher association is about the most useful organization in this country. What other is so utterly unselfish? Its interests are centered about the child. It aims to help the home better understand the school and the school better understand the home. It is helping bridge the gap between the home and school. Rapidly the school superintendent, principal and teacher is coming to appreciate the sterling value of the P-T-A, encouraging parents to be members, and becoming active. School people are beginning to realize that it is a privilege to attend its meetings—where they can get even more than they can give. Yet an occasional superintendent, principal or teacher prevents its organization in his school or obstructs its efforts. Perhaps he, or some friend of his, has had an unhappy experience with such an organization. But it wasn't a P-T-A, no doubt. It was almost certainly a group which merely called itself by this name, that caused the trouble. It's these bootleg P-T-A's that have given the legitimate P-T-A an unwholesome reputation in a few places. Like any other regularly organized body, the Parent-Teacher Association has a recognized legitimate meaning. There are certain rules and principles which every local P-T-A subscribes to before it is morally eligible to take the name. Parent-Teacher Association. Accordingly it has membership, with small dues, in the state and national bodies known as the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Are They Impostors? That group which calls itself a Parent-Teacher association without membership in the state and national bodies has always seemed to me as presumptuous as would a group of persons be who would call themselves Masons, Knights of Columbus, or Legionnaires without meeting the standards of the mother organization. Wouldn't they be considered impostors? Maybe I am wrong. What do you think about it? When a group organize and call themselves a P-T-A, without really qualifying as such, they may do a very good local job; yet they also may do all sorts of harm. But if they truly qualify, they have representatives attending the state and national conventions, they receive the official literature, they learn the standards and ideals of the real P-T-A. Such an honest to goodness P-T-A is not inclined to meddle with the administration of the schools, since that would be in violation of the basic principles of the mother organization. Anyone who wishes to organize a P-T-A, should communicate with the state president for literature and instruction.

Curious Facts About Digestion

SOME PEOPLE STILL TAKE COPIOUS DOSES OF SODA TO RELIEVE HEARTBURN! -AND WILL SWALLOW AS MUCH AS THREE SPOONFULS OF SODA WHEN ONE HARMLESS TABLET OF DIAPEPSIN WOULD BRING RELIEF.

EACH TABLET BEARS THE LETTER "P" FOR PAPE—THE MAN WHO DISCOVERED DIAPEPSIN

Heartburn after eating, gas pains, and other distress is far more common than the knowledge of how to relieve it! There are still people who rely upon soda to relieve this condition. They ought to be told about Diapepsin, for this simple and agreeable remedy really relieves it. You can carry these tablets in your pocket—always ready to quiet or comfort such discomfort. They relieve the pangs of acid indigestion like magic. Eat one or two—just as you would a mint or candy—and that's all there is to it. Try it! Carry the pocket tin and take a tablet or two after meals until your digestion is "clicking" and the old sourness is gone. If you have distress after meals, any acid discomfort at all, your stomach is probably slow in emptying. If you relieve this condition with Pape's Diapepsin, you can eat with fewer restrictions. Diapepsin, in tablets that are eaten just like candy, has brought happiness to thousands who thought that they had a "weak stomach." Remember the name—which is Pape's Diapepsin. Druggists are all familiar with it.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Specter Of Al Smith Disturbs

Ugly Fight On Convention Floor Perturbs Democrats Awaiting Gathering

IS STRONGER THAN FARLEY

Central Press Washington Bureau 1900 S street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The Franklin D. Roosevelt management does not take at all seriously assertions by such politicians as Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia that the present White House tenant will not even be renominated in June.

What does perturb them is the possibility of an ugly fight on the convention floor.

They greatly desire an appearance of harmony but by no means are sure of their ability to maintain it without a resort to steam roller tactics so crass as to create a worse scandal than an open-and-above-board row.

NO SEATS FOR TALMADGE

The Rooseveltians are not much afraid of Talmadge, indeed.

They take it for granted that the Georgian will be on hand with an anti-Roosevelt delegation, but they will have a contesting delegation of pro-Roosevelt complexion, the credentials committee will seat the latter, and nothing will remain for the Talmadge aggregation to do except to sputter ineffectively on the outside. They don't believe that, furious as the Georgia governor doubtless will be, he can swing his own commonwealth out of the Roosevelt column on election day.

But suppose Al Smith turns up as a New York delegate-at-large? It will not be so easy to pooh-pooh him.

AL HAS POWER

Of course the credentials committee will have the needed majority to do it. But will it be safe?

If Al is shut out, can Roosevelt conceivably carry New York?

He will lose up-state New York, anyway. To swing the whole commonwealth he will have to arrive, northward from the Battery at the Harlem river, with an enormous Manhattan majority. Can this be done if Al is grossly affronted? Plenty of Roosevelt-fies are skeptical of it. Despite all that he has done to Tammany they surmise that he is stronger with the Tiger than James A. Farley is.

AL WILL CREATE SCENE

Whether to let Al into the convention or exclude him is a grave problem.

If he's admitted it is agreed that he will create a "scene".

If he is excluded it will be a sensation of the first magnitude. Governor Talmadge can be shut out without any resultant political convulsion—but not Al Smith.

A PROBLEM

There certainly will be some other New Deal opposition in the convention hall, besides Al's and Talmadge's—if they get in.

It will not be altogether a love feast, but the disconcerted element unquestionably can be kept squelched unless it has competent leadership. Governor Talmadge, it is a foregone conclusion, can't furnish it. The late Senator Huey P. Long could, but he is dead.

That seems to leave it up to Al. With him as spokesman it can become rampagous.

To some it appears to be sound policy to shut the door on him. Others surmise that he will be more dangerous, flummoxing on the outside, than if he is let in.

ROW OVER PLATFORM

The Democratic row will be over the platform, not the candidate; no rational politician of either party doubts President Roosevelt's renomination.

A third party ticket, maybe! But even that seems unlikely.

For one thing, after the two major conventions have been held, there will not be time to put a third ticket into the field. It was done in 1924, but then the movement had been simmering for some time in advance—not hanging fire until the last minute, as now. And the 1924 third party ticket carried only one state, at that.

My New York By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—There is a piece of property six inches wide and a hundred feet long for sale in the heart of the Times Square sector.

This fantastic plot, the result of a surveyor's error, offers many challenging possibilities to the imaginative owner. He could (and indeed he may) use it for a signboard; but that would be the least daring of the uses to which it could be put.

He could build a house on it, in the manner, roughly, of certain African and Oceanian tribes. Of course the house would have to be pretty high in the air, on a long steel fence-like affair, braced by girders angling up from the sides of the fence. Admittedly, he would be building over other people's property as soon as he exceeded his six-inch width, even though he didn't bulge out until the height of, say a hundred stories. Upside down skyscrapers are doubtless illegal.

But the nuisance value of this plot ought to make it worth while. A solid steel wall, six inches thick and a hundred feet long, towering a thousand feet in the air would not only make the nearby merchants and amusement vendors feel pretty silly but it would shut out a good deal of uptown electrical advertising from the view of pedestrians below 42nd Street.

Thus the owner might, for a consideration, slice off a few feet of his wall every month. By the time he was below the skyline he should be a rich man.

Now you are beginning to think all this is mere strained imagining. But wait until the eventual buyer of the property announces his plans for building! I wager they'll be almost as grotesque as the ones sketched. I know the Times Square mood.

The bootlegging of the words of popular songs is a strange Manhattan mushroom and if the determination of the authorities is as sincere as they now would have us believe, it is shortly to be stamped out. A new statute provides a $1,000 fine and a year in jail for the plagiarists.

Recently the "pitch men" who hawk leaflets containing from 10 to 500 popular verses have been deported from their old Longacre Square haunts and invading the sidewalks, bars, bistros and pin-marble salons uptown and down. What interests me is that, unless my confidential scouts are fibbing, these peddlers have uncovered a curious fact about human nature.

The song-books sell scarcely at all indoors. They are strictly open-air merchandise. A circle-eyed ghost who has long haunted the Rialto was kind enough to explain the difference to me.

"It's thisaway, bud," he said. "A guy is walking down Broadway, say. And he gets to whistling 'The Music Goes 'Round and Around.' Then he gets to humming it. Then he gets stuck on the words. And when I stem him with a nickel sheet on which all the words is wrote, just as they are sung, he bites.

"It's the walking that does it. Walking makes you hum and want to know the words of songs. A man settin' down don't, as a rule, care whichaway the words of a song goes. It's funny, but it's so."

Not so funny, perhaps. A man sitting down in front of a foaming stein is often able to improvise as satisfactorily as if he had the original music in his other hand.

The department of commerce says that broadcasting was used experimentally during the war; however, the station broadcasting with which we are familiar at the present time, was first licensed in September, 1921.

Under the will of the late Mathe Gunton, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, all of decedent's estate is left to his wife, Lynda Gunton, who is also named as executrix. The amount of the estate is not stated.

Pussy willows, growing in the county commissioners' office, may be taken as a sign of spring. The branches, which were cut several weeks ago and placed in vases on a window sill, are taking root and have new branches about three inches long.

Knowledge that a dog law enforcer is working in this district has caused a rush of applicants for dog licenses to the county treasurer's office. Most of those who apply for license admit that they have just been putting it off, but they had no intention of letting their dogs go without licenses.

Thomas Edmunds, clerk of the voters' registration bureau, calls attention to the fact that persons who move from one ward to another should come to the office and change their addresses. This must be done before February 23 if the elector is to vote at the spring primary. It is known that quite a number have moved who have as yet not changed their registration cards.

Will of the late Matilda Arrow of Pulaski township has been admitted to probate at the register and recorder's office. After making bequests of specified amounts to her children Mrs. Arrow leaves the balance of the estate to be divided equally among her children, William H. Arrow, George W. Arrow and Mary A. Gibson. A bequest is also made to a grandson, Charles A. Arrow. Mary A. Gibson is named as executrix of the will.

Motion to quash an indictment has been made in the case of the Commonwealth against Alphonse D'Amore, which originated in the office of Justice of the Peace J. E. VanGorder of Ellwood City. It is claimed in the motion to quash that the information was made by J. R. Lusk, who charged the defendant with surety of the peace, against C. E. Sankey. At the hearing before shortly before former Treasurer William O. Pitts left the office, but he was told that none would be issued until the new treasurer, Joseph H. Hartland, came in. He had neglected to send for the license again. While protests were made against paying fines and costs, nearly all admitted that it was their own fault that they had not taken out licenses.

The county commissioners are preparing a list of all the property which have been sold for taxes in former years, and for which the county holds the deeds. An effort is to be made to dispose of this property in order that it may again be placed on the tax rolls. Most of it is vacant lots.

I just love to dance—always did. But it got so the men simply would not ask me. I could see them looking my way—and shrugging their shoulders. It was heartbreaking, but there didn't seem to be a single thing I could do.

Finally someone told me about Marmola—how it contains a natural corrective for abnormal obesity, known and recommended by physicians the world over.

It sounded so easy I just couldn't believe my ears! But I took Marmola exactly as directed—4 tablets a day—and imagine my astonishment to find myself actually getting thin! Without exercising, dieting, or draining my system with drastic purgatives!

Now I'm slender as a debutante, and so full of pep I seem like a different person.

If the thousands of women who have reduced the Marmola way were to take you into their confidence, you would probably be amazed how many would tell you experiences similar to that related above.

New Castle Fair Set For August

OTHER FAIR DATES
CHOSEN AT BUTLER

The dates of August 26, 27 and 28 had been tentatively chosen today for the 1936 New Castle fair, it was announced by A. C. Shoaf, secretary-manager of the New Castle Agricultural association, sponsoring organization for the annual show.

The selected dates are three weeks ahead of New Castle fair dates of the past. The 1935 fair took place in the third week of September.

Mr. Shoaf, with President J. L. Burton of the sponsoring organization and Thomas Cooper and Crawford Shoaf, were in Butler yesterday for a meeting of the Coal, Oil and Iron Circuit of Western Pennsylvania which designates the weeks for the fairs in this district.

Mr. Shoaf said the week of August 24 was designated for the New Castle fair and stated that the 26, 27 and 28 would likely be approved by the local association board.

Other fairs were set as follows: Ford City—Week of August 10. Butler—Week of August 17. Clarion—Week of August 31. Stoneboro—Week of September 7.

The Mercer fair will likely be held in the week following the Stoneboro fair.

W. A. Boyd, Stoneboro, was chosen head of the circuit organization for the coming year.

B'Nai B'Rith Hears Dr. Rosenthal Speak

B'Nai B'Rith members of New Castle heard Dr. I. Rosenthal, eloquent B'Nai B'Rith leader from Philadelphia, discuss the work of that organization at their meeting in the Cosmo club, North Mercer street, last night.

Dr. Rosenthal, now completing a tour of the Western Pennsylvania area, spoke of the work of the branches of B'Nai B'Rith of its anti-defamation work, its A. Z. A. and its Hillel foundation. He gave his enthusiastic audience a word picture of the functions of the various B'Nai B'Rith departments and of the support needed to carry on the work.

The speaker was introduced by the chairman of the program committee, Gordon Stone, who spoke of the future plans and subjects as outlined by his committee.

The regular business of the lodge was set aside to allow Dr. Rosenthal more time for his message.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Asher R. Johnson today was appointed acting postmaster at Bradford, Pa.

CONGRESSMAN RISK AND SEN. BEAN URGE RETURN OF G. O. P.

over their domestic and internal economy and their most intimate daily affairs, and to bestow upon the federal government the powers thus taken away.

What, then, do we Republicans call for?

We call for a pledge to the government which we know, a platform which is built on the rock of the constitution, for a leader who will carry the fight, and who will crystallize all the sober thought of America behind him.

Give us a man "who comprehends his trust, and to the same keeps faithful with a singleness of aim." Give him the prophetic mind and the God-like character of him who said "with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right."

Let him have vision and faith, and courage, but above all, let him have honesty of mind. Let him be a man not only with a capacity for leadership, but with a will to seize it; a man with a gift of prophecy that is just, and with a heart for action that is brave.

Under this man let us cement our common political beliefs, let us organize our opinions for action, let us promote a united party, let us quicken the forward step of Republican ranks, and so let us drive these pagan Democrats from the temples of power.

Congressman Risk

Congressman Charles F. Risk, of Rhode Island, the young man who upset the New Deal in a special election held in his congressional district was introduced and his address was an indication of why his constituents selected him. Full of oratorical fire he nevertheless was free from the charge of demagoguery. Some excerpts from his address follow:

"As we meet this day, we commemorate the one hundred twenty-sixth anniversary of the birth of the man who was to become the chief executive of our country during the period in which occurred one of the greatest and most vital struggles in our history; the man who showed us the way, and by his devotion to his country and its ideals marked himself as one of the three greatest presidents of the United States.

"Abraham Lincoln was a Republican. But before everything else he was an American. With him the welfare of his country came first and for him no sacrifice was too great. His record in the nation's capital, our books of history and the writings of able students all bear testimony to his great humanity, his generous heart and his intense patriotism.

"We have had the actual experience during the past 35 months of seeing the constitution utterly ignored time after time in an attempt to secure passage of new deal measures. We have seen a gag rule applied so effectively that the privilege of debate was limited and in many instances denied, when measures of great importance and of vital interest to the American public were being acted on.

"The attitude of the administration at Washington toward the Constitution has been, to say the least, just short of contempt. The cry of some of those who would ignore that immortal document has been 'You cannot eat the Constitution.' Neither can we eat the ten commandments, but who would have the temerity to urge that we scrap the moral code contained in those commandments. The Constitution is the product of the best minds of the day of the Convention in 1787, and the result of long and careful deliberation on the part of those self-sacrificing statesmen, young and old to whom had been assigned a monumental task and who performed it fearlessly and patriotically.

His Presidents Attitude

"When the decision on the NRA was handed down in May of 1935, the president referred to it as a relic of the horse and buggy days, despite the fact that the opinion was that of a court which is the most deliberate of courts and the membership of which is bipartisan.

When the AAA decision was rendered releasing the funds which had been impounded in the registries of the various federal courts pending the outcome of the test of the constitutionality of the AAA, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace remarked that it was "the greatest legal steal in American history."

"Such intemperate criticism is unfair to those honorable and distinguished men who make up the membership of the supreme court. At no point in any of the decisions so criticized, can any one find one word which would indicate that any member of the Court is out of sympathy with the ends sought to be accomplished by the administration.

The court has simply said that those measures in the form submitted are without the power of congress to enact, because the Constitution as it reads, at the present time, prohibits such action by congress. The people of the United States through their states, can bring about an amendment to the constitution if they so desire, and the court has always recognized this privilege.

"In 1933, the AAA was passed. Outstanding lawyers asserted that it could not hold water in the courts. However, no hearing that warning. When it was tested, this, along with other measures of the administration, was forced through congress and nothing was allowed to stand in the way of its passage.

Subsequently, the cotton control, tobacco and potato acts were passed by the same methods. A few days ago we had the unusual experience of witnessing the proposal to repeal all three of these laws and the repeal bills were sponsored by the very forces who engineered them through congress at the times of their passage, and their action to repeal was taken as a result of the president's letter recommending their repeal.

With New Deal laws falling by the wayside one after the other, is it any wonder that Governor Smith should indulge in the quip that there are lawyers in congress but they are not functioning.

What was meant by the direct promise to effect not less than a 25% reduction in government costs? We certainly had a right to expect and did expect that when this administration came into office, it had a well defined program worked out and that this platform promise was made in good faith.

After three years of abortive attempts to provide the more abundant life, during which period there has appeared a growing distrust of government and of its ability to meet the problems confronting us, it might be well for us to sit down in calmness and deliberation, take stock of ourselves and the task before us, and in the spirit of the Great Emancipator, and with the American spirit of fair play in our hearts, make an honest approach to a solution of our difficulties.

Senator Bean
State Senator Theodore Lane Bean of Norristown was the closing speaker of the evening and true to the advance notices, he delivered a speech that flayed the administration.

Sixteen million voters out of an eligible electorate of 40,000,000 cast their ballots on November 6, 1932, for the "New Deal." That is 40 per cent that represents a minority of 50,000,000 people out of 125,000,000.

Now, amid confusion, confounded, subversity propagated by sinister forces lusting for autocratic power; deliberately sold out by bankrupt and false leadership, America turns to its patriotic sons for succor!

Will they let a political foe destroy the great American Philosophy of "Equal Opportunity for All," which, in the short space of 150 years, raised the United States from poverty to the pinnacle of 400 billion of unprecedented wealth? A refusal for oppressed people of the world!

Surrounded by radical elements that supply the financial energy and brain-power for The Plan to overthrow American Liberties; a partisan-prisoner "in a swift stream," the elected public servant-leader, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, apparently deluded and manipulated beyond his capacity to grasp the portentous trend of destructive events, complacently contemplates approaching colossal ruin without vision, amiably treating symptoms instead of causes, while our distressed land is confronted by economic death in an artificial depression.

Strong language? The hour demands strong, straight thinking; strong naked words; strong direct action—in a betrayed world made mad by crooked, brain-twisting theories; false, and oftentimes alien propaganda, and diverse misdirected action.

Addressing his remarks to President Roosevelt, Senator Bean asked why he did not keep his pledges, charged him with coercing congress, approved collectivistic crop legislation, giving aid to enemies of the United States, breaking down the fundamental supports of American democracy and concluded by saying, "Fight For Constitutional Republic."

This is a fight for the preservation of the constitutional republic. For its self-preservation, as well as their own, the constitution imposes a duty on its citizenship to defend it against all comers.

Finally, let me tell you:

Stop the eternal budgeoning of business and industry and take the government out of competition with private enterprise.

Stop the endless abuse, and the constant flow of punitive legislation and regulations, directed against the productive agencies from whence alone real recovery can come.

Stop trying to bamboozle the great mass of American people into believing that they do not have to pay their share of the billions which the New Deal has blown into its bubbles and follies of Socialistic experiment.

Stop the efforts that have been continuous throughout the New Deal to array class against class. Abandon the indefensible policy of employing the Federal taxing power to budgeon the states into enacting Federally-dictated legislation.

Just a word about my distinguished friend and your neighbor, Senator Batchelor.

Nothing gives me greater pleasure than to come here at this time and in this place in order that you may know the high regard and the real affection in which he is held by every member of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

He was one of that small but invincible group which "stood at Thermopylae" in the last session and successfully defended the people of Pennsylvania against the unbearable taxes which Earle was determined to load upon them—an unassuming man, loathe to sing his own praises, to whom his constituents owe a debt that they never can fully pay.

French Socialist Leader Wounded

Leon Blum Is Attacked By Group Of Royalists And Badly Wounded

(International News Service)
PARIS, Feb. 13.—Leon Blum, leader of the Socialist party and one of the foremost political figures in France, was seriously injured today when attacked by a group of Royalists, members of the action franchise.

The attack occurred in front of the war ministry. Blum's face was badly cut, and a vein was severed near his neck. He was rushed to the Municipal hospital hotel Dieu.

Blum, who is 63, long has been a fighting floor leader in the chamber of deputies. His socialist party is diametrically opposed to the view of the Royalists.

Fears were expressed the sudden attack upon Blum might lead to serious disorders.

Blum has been president of the Socialist party since 1924. He is a former cabinet minister and a well-known publicist.

YOUR CHILD?
HANDICAPPED! HELPED!

WHERE will your child be twenty years from now? Will he be successful... happy... healthy? Of course he will if you can manage it, but do you realize how much his future depends on what he is doing now... what he is learning... what kind of character he is building?

How does your child stand among his fellows at school? Is he up in his grades? Is he studious and attentive? Children are sometimes thought dull when it is not their minds which are at fault, but their eyes. 22 per cent of all public school children have defective eyes. Children who can't see well, can't learn well. And poor seeing is due to two causes... eye defects and poor light. If the eye itself is defective, it should be corrected at once with good glasses. If the light is inadequate, that should be corrected, too.

The light under which the child works at school and home is undoubtedly far too dim. Most of us have forgotten entirely

BETTER LIGHT - BETTER SIGHT

Tests show that 34% of all pupils are retarded by poor light... 85% are held back when both sight and light are defective.

that nature designed our eyes to see large objects in daylight. In most homes today children read with artificial light of an intensity of 5 footcandles or less, about 1/2,000th of the intensity of daylight, and far less than their eyes need for easy, safe, comfortable seeing. 50 to 100 foot-candles would not be too much, but few children get it.

With poor light, learning becomes doubly arduous. The child must work harder to concentrate; the extra concentration tires him in mind and body. His studies suffer, and his seeming inability to keep up with his fellows makes him shy or backward, or defiant and pugnacious—all through no fault of his own.

Good seeing is the cornerstone of your child's future. Make sure his eyesight is clear and good, and be sure that he has light and plenty of it—at school and at home.

laborately. Henry Ford said it well, advocating a short work week, with two days off, that men might have time to spend pleasantly the earnings of five days.

ALL THAT will come and more. In the past, men worked too hard, while paid and fed too little, never dreamed of Mrs. Roosevelt's "varied satisfactions", while the prosperous, as a rule, concentrated too much on foolish satisfaction.

MARY BEARD, who writes history, says truly that authors ignore the part that women have played in history, and wants "long overdue" acknowledgment of the forgotten women's share, in world civilization."

THAT SHARE would be 98 per cent of the total. Through a million years, women have gradually civilized their men and their sons. Every little boy sat on a woman's lap for at least five years, and that accounts for such civilization as we have.

The sister of Augustus was greater than any Roman emperor, more intelligent and a thousand times more magnanimous. When her brilliant, worthless husband, Antony, ran away with Cleopatra, died and left dubious children, that noble woman took care of them as though they had been her own.

The never-to-be-forgotten Roman wife stabbed herself to the heart to encourage her husband, afraid of death. She ought to have a monument.

THREE STEPS TO RELIEVING CONSTIPATION

Measure-out a cleansing dose of liquid laxative, regulating the amount to suit the age, condition and individual need.

II Tomorrow, take less; let the regular muscular action of bowels do part of the work.

III Reduce the dose each time, until regularity is completely restored.

You can find no safer advice than this, to find the solution to your bowel troubles.

Just do what hospitals do, and the doctors insist on. Use a liquid laxative, and you can bring yourself to clocklike regularity without strain or ill effect.

You can use a liquid laxative at home. And if you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the real secret of relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. Taking a little less each time, gives the bowels a chance to act of their own accord, until they are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

Once you have experienced this comfort, you will never go back to any form of help that can't be regulated to suit the need.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that form no habit, even in children. The action is gentle, but sure. It will relieve any sluggishness or bilious condition due to constipation. It is the very nicest tasting, nicest acting preparation you can buy. So, try Syrup Pepsin, taking regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

See Republican Harmony Move Badly Shattered

Battle Developing Over Nomination For Auditor General

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—Nullifying harmony moves taken at a "grass roots" convention in the western section of the state, political developments at the state capitol today swept Pennsylvania Republicans toward a party crisis regarded as heralding one of the most bitter campaigns in the history of the state GOP membership.

Discussion over the "old guard" party ticket, headed by State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, candidate for the nomination of auditor general, flared into the open with the formal announcement of the candidacy of Otto F. Messner, Lancaster, for the same post.

Earlier in the week, definite battle lines were forecast in the state membership of the party by a statement issued by John Y. Wills, chairman of the Young Republicans of Pennsylvania, demanding recognition for his younger element in the party. Wills charged his group was going unnoticed by the older members and urged support for Messner "for some other Young Republican" for one of the two fiscal posts to be filled at this year's election.

Announcement of a meeting to be held here Saturday and to be attended by war veterans from every congressional district in the state, brought indications the veteran membership would side with the Young Republicans in their demand for recognition.

Grieving Widow Commits Suicide At Pittsburgh

Widow Kills Self That Son And Relatives May Have Plenty

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13.—That her son and aged mother might be spared the pangs of poverty which she believed was moving upon them, a Crawford widow made a self-sacrifice of her own life by firing three fatal bullets into her body.

The motive for the apparent suicide of Mrs. Lucille Childers, 50, who had been grieving since the recent death of her husband, an insurance agent, was disclosed today in a note left to her 15-year-old son, according to the coroner. The missive said in part: "Do not think ill of mother. . . . In the past seven weeks I have suffered agony since the death of your father, and this seems the best solution, as I cannot stand to live and see you in poverty if I stay. This way there will be enough money to place grandmother in a nice home where she will have no worries, and the rest can be used for your education."

League Puts U. S. On Spot

Success Or Failure Of Oil Embargo Against Italy Is Up To United States

ITALIAN MAKES OIL STATEMENT

(International News Service)
GENEVA, Feb. 13.—Copies of a report putting success or failure of a League of Nations oil embargo against Italy up to the United States were dispatched today to Washington and other league and major non-league capitals.

Deep disappointment was felt in league circles over news that present neutrality legislation in America would be extended for one year, without limiting exports of oil and other war essentials to the pre-1935 level.

Nevertheless the technicians' conclusions were not to the liking of the Italians, as indicated by an Italian military authority's statement that an oil embargo would be futile even with American cooperation.

Report prejudiced, he said. "It underestimates Italy's oil stocks and overestimates our needs."

Italy's requirements for the campaign in Ethiopia are 10,000 tons of gasoline a month, he said, whereas the report estimates war needs at 20,000 to 30,000 tons.

The Italian said this country also has oil stocks at certain free ports. He refused to name them but Trieste is presumed to be one.

The long report drafted after thorough investigation of the situation by a committee of experts, said an oil ban would prove effective in blocking Italy's war in three or three and a half months if America limited oil shipments to "normal."

Director of Streets B. F. Butler today announced that parking of automobiles and other motor vehicles in the downtown streets would be prohibited tonight, effective at six p. m.

The order not to park cars along the curbs in the business section came at noon today as the result of plans made by Butler to have the snow removed from the streets.

Arrangements have been made to have the city streets force and trucks owned by non-city employees put into use. Snow will be shoveled by street employees and also some persons who owe taxes.

When automobiles are parked along curbs it is impossible to properly clean the thoroughfares Butler stated, hence the order "Don't park in the business section after 6 p. m. tonight."

Reception arrangements for a mammoth crowd were in readiness today for the benefit tea which the Citizens and Parents Music Association, newly formed civic organization, is sponsoring at the senior high school tonight at 8:15 for the school musicians of the city.

A varied program will be presented during the evening by students from the dramatic and music departments of the high school. Tea and coffee will be served in the lobby.

Mrs. A. T. Chamberlain is general chairman for the affair, assisted by other committee heads.

The tea marks the first of a series of benefit affairs which the organization will hold to raise funds to send local musicians to contests this spring. It will also afford music lovers opportunity for fellowship.

Nazis Arrest More Catholics

Secret Police Of Germany Continue Drive Against Catholic Youth Association

(Copyright, 1936, By International News Service)

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—More arrests of Catholics swelled police lists today as the Gestapo—secret police—drive against Catholic youth associations continued on alleged official suspicions that leaders and members have been involved in plotting against the security of the Nazi state.

Officials admitted today that the roundup, the greatest campaign involving Catholic organizations since Adolf Hitler became chancellor, is not yet completed.

"Detailed information cannot be made public until the investigation is completed," a high official of the Gestapo told International News Service.

"The Rhineland is particularly affected."

For Bad Winter Coughs, Mix This Remedy Yourself

Saves Good Money! No Cooking!

If you want the best cough remedy that money can buy, mix it at home. It costs very little, yet it's the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of distressing coughs, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money—a real family supply. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, helps clear the air passages, and thus ends a bad cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a compound of Norway Pine, in concentrated form, famous for its effect in stopping coughs quickly. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

David Shaffer Hears Sentence Pronounced In Sunbury Court

PAY REWARD TO FOUR PERSONS

(International News Service)

SUNBURY, Pa., Feb. 13.—The price that was on his head awarded, David Shaffer, who killed his sister and maimed a state trooper in escaping a police trap, was to receive his sentence of life imprisonment here today.

As the Shamokin desperado prepared for what may be his last public appearance, the Northumberland county commissioners announced their division of the $500 reward offered for the ex-bandit prior to his capture last December 28.

Four Share Reward.
Dr. William F. Confair, the Benton physician who used morphine and adhesive tape in holding Shaffer for state police, will receive $200, the commissioners said. Bruce Sutliff, Harry Johnson and Lyle Bittenbender, Benton youths who helped carry the fugitive from his car to Confair's office following the automobile accident that led to his capture, each will receive $100.

Counsel for Shaffer, who was convicted of slaying his sister Bertha, 19, in a brush with state police at Shamokin last October 12, plan no appeal. Neither does the state propose to prosecute Shaffer for the shooting of Corp. William Bloom, the trooper wounded in the firing that caused Bertha's death, unless he succumbs to his injuries.

Two Are Killed; Three Workmen Horribly Maimed

Blast Occurs 50 Feet Underground Where Chicago Men Are At Work

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—The lives of three workmen, horribly maimed in a terrific dynamite blast 50 feet underground, which took two lives and injured seven workers, were despaired of today.

The explosion occurred last night when the rock drill of the night crew, constructing a sanitary district sewer, bit into seven sticks—four and one-half pounds—of unexploded dynamite.

Half buried beneath mud and rock, the injured had to be carried a half mile through the sewer to the exit shaft, where they were placed in ambulances and commandeered autos and rushed to hospitals.

Allan Green, 34, negro, and Albert De Salles, 27, died of injuries. The three not expected to survive are Joe Ledkie, 40; Jack Smith and William Oldham, 33, a negro.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP V-37 PROGRAM

Troop V-37 entertained the parents at Sunawik but with a program of Scouting. Senior Patrol leader Hunt Davis called the meeting to order and then called the Panther Patrol forward to conduct the opening exercises. Patrol Leader Harold Reebel was in charge of this function.

Next a game of "mop sticks" was played by the Lion and Eagle Patrols. This game came out a tie. The game was to demonstrate how easily it is to get clothes torn or faces soiled at a scout meeting.

Formal inspection was next in order with Crawford Lyon acting as inspecting officer.

Cole, Miles, Sloan, Lyon and Howe proceeded with a skit dramatizing the necessity of safety in the home.

Then came demonstrations in signaling, semaphore and wig-wag and buzzer. A knot tying contest by 3 patrols and a firemen's relay carry demonstration by a chosen team.

Delace Cole put on a little humorous stunt which proved very entertaining.

A first aid contest by the three patrols was followed by firemaking.

P. L. David Taylor's Lions won the firemaking contest.

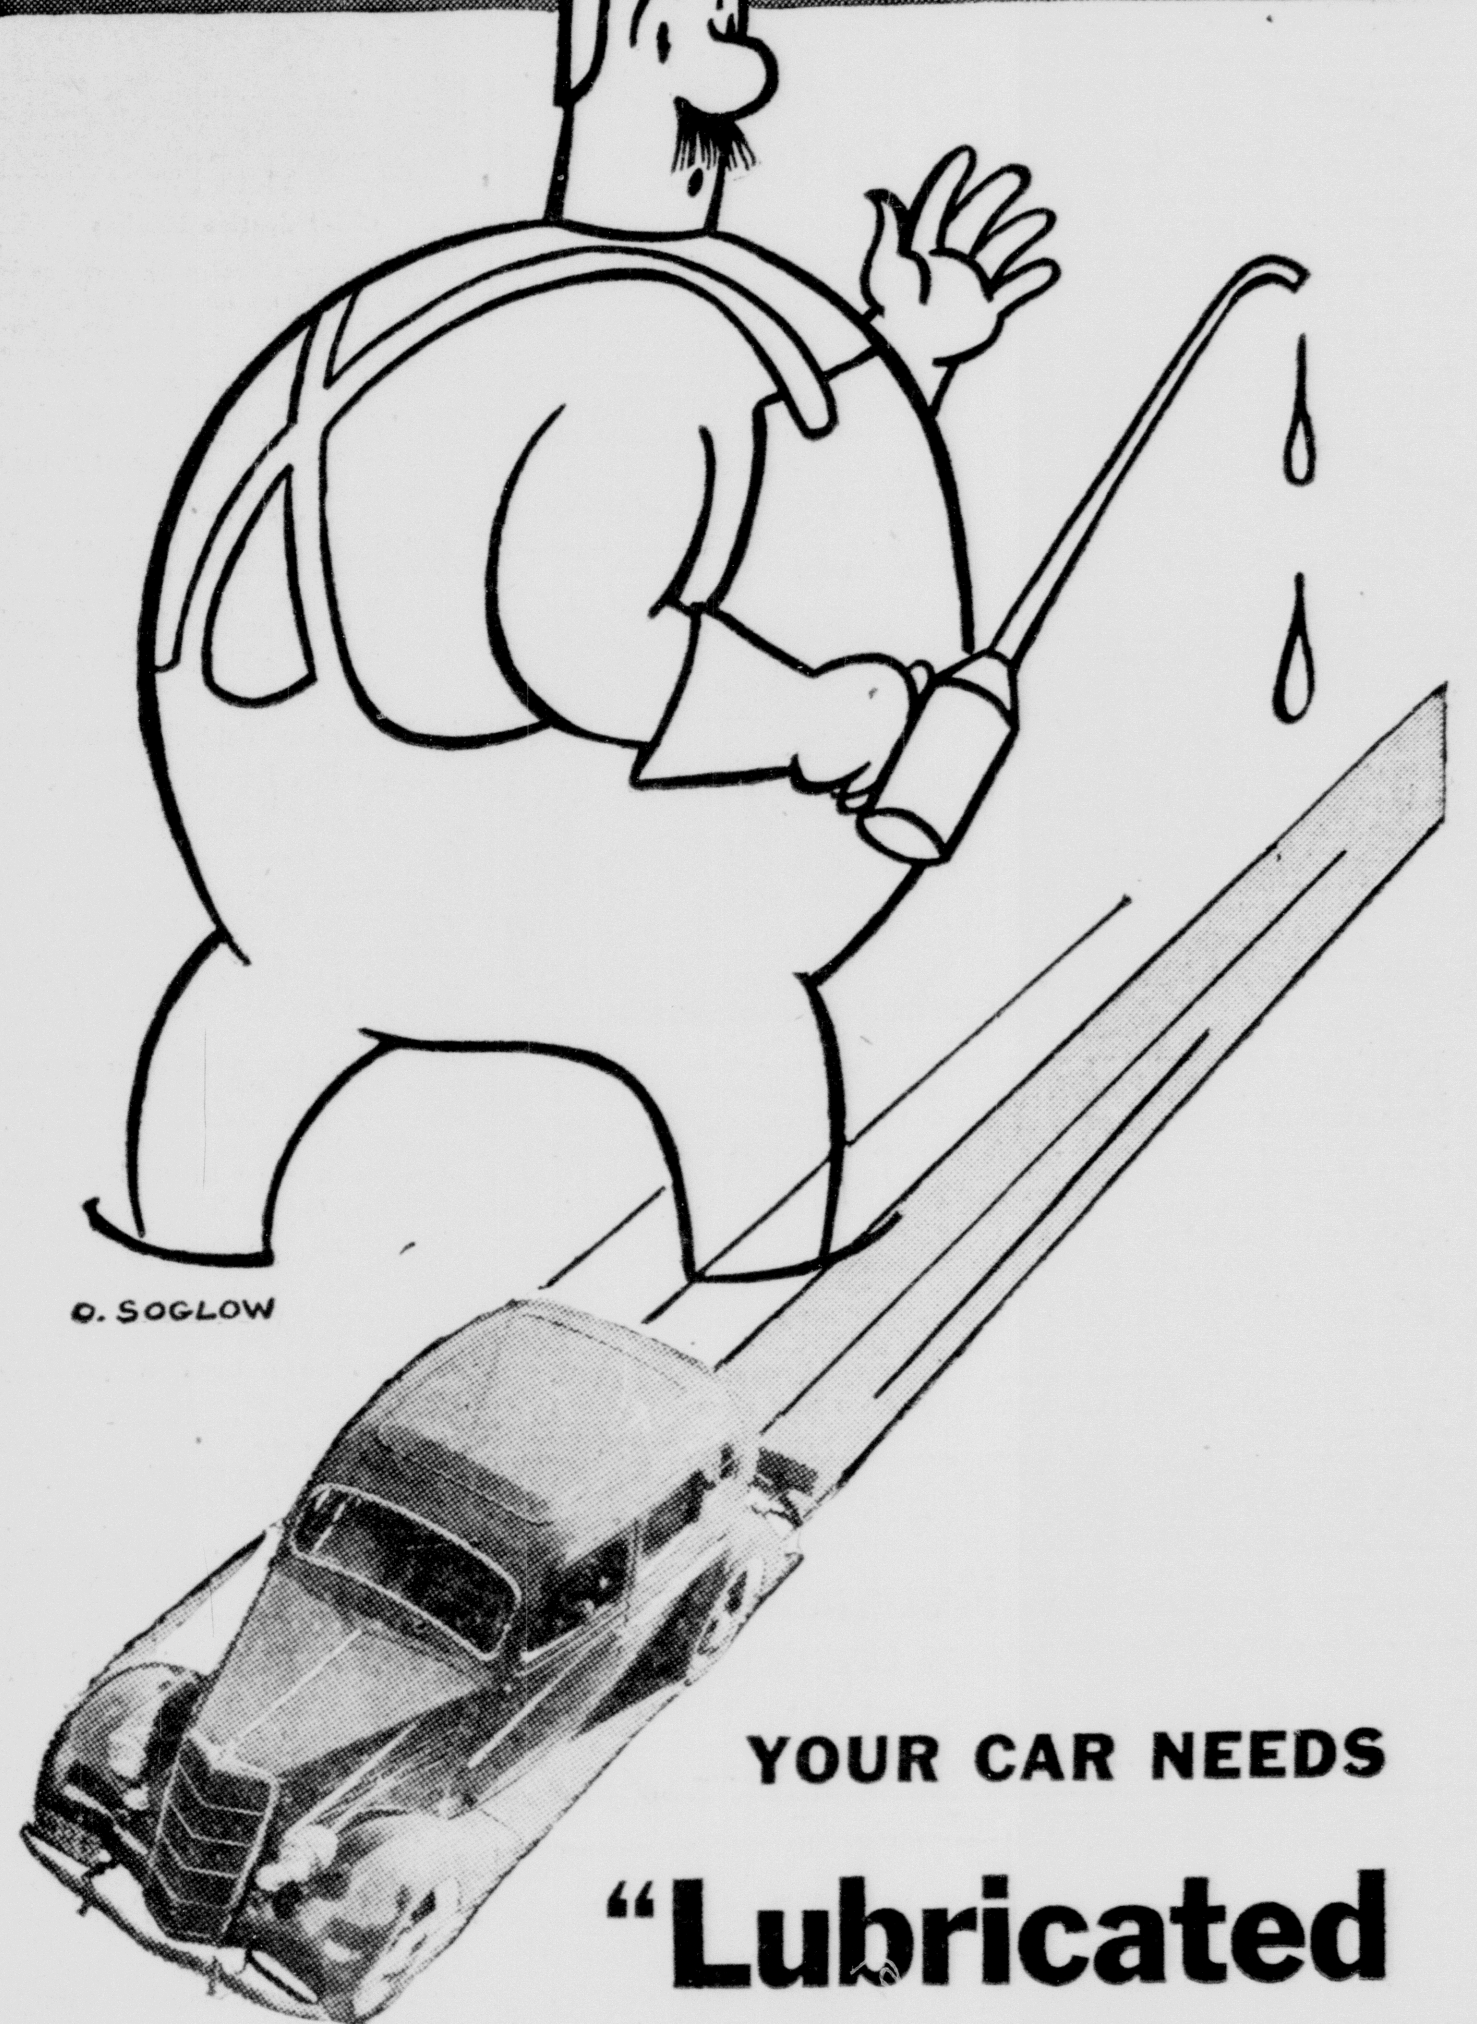

P. L. Jim Rucker (Eagles) won the first aid contest.

Jack Potter won the knots for the Panthers.

Members of the Hdq. Patrol acted as judges and otherwise helped out to make the meeting a fine success.

Sounding of "Taps" by Bugler Hamilton closed the meeting.

SUB-ZERO WEATHER IS DONE FOR PRESENT

Chicago Weather Forecaster Gives Cheering News To Mid-West Area

MODERATE WEATHER FOR BRIEF PERIOD

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 13.—C. A. Donnell, chief of the government weather bureau here, came forward today with glad tidings for the entire nation.

After carefully studying his reports, the weather man smilingly declared, "there is no more sub-zero weather in sight."

But he carefully qualified his optimism by adding, "at least for several days."

Sees Moderate Weather
"Over a widespread region, extending from the Pacific northwest, there is a large low-pressure area," he explained, "which is causing unsettled conditions and warmer weather."

The huge mass of Arctic air in the Mackenzie river basin of Western Canada, birthplace of the succession of bitter cold waves which have gripped the nation, appears to be breaking up, Donnell said, adding, "There is no meteorological condition at present to bring any of this cold air down on us."

He predicted temperatures around 15 degrees above zero for Chicago today, and a light snowfall which will be general through the north central states.

Another hike is scheduled for Saturday, February 15, which is in the form of a bird census. The scouts will leave King's at 10.

REGULAR MEETING

The regular scout meeting was held in the grade school gymnasium on Monday evening, but due to the severe weather, the attendance numbered 18. The fellows had a brief drill on marching, etc. This was followed by a story period. Kenneth Griffin, assistant scoutmaster, instructed a group in tenderfoot

Concludes Thirteen Years As Postmaster

C. B. White Has Record For Long Service At New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 13.—February 10 marked the close of 13 years of active service as postmaster for C. B. White, who ended his term at the New Wilmington office on that date. Mr. White has worked for the civil service since 1908.

In 1923 when Mr. White took office the New Wilmington office was third class, and Mr. White's ambition was to make it second class and to establish free delivery. On July 1, 1926 his aim was realized and the office became second class. Free delivery was established September 1, 1926.

When free delivery was established New Wilmington held the distinction of being the smallest town in Pennsylvania to have free delivery, having only some 900 inhabitants.

White has served under four presidents, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover and Roosevelt. The post office business has doubled during his term of office and the office has been moved to bigger and better quarters.

Snow Plows Are Again Needed To Clear Highways

Twelve Snow Plows Sent Out Onto Highways Early This Morning

Twelve snow plows, manned by a crew of 25 men, took to the state highways at 3:30 this morning, to begin clearing away the drifts which had started to accumulate as another heavy fall of snow began floating earthward.

The snow continued to fall during the night and by morning, several inches had accumulated, although the wind stopped blowing and the roads were not drifting as badly.

It was the second time this week that crews had to be sent out to keep the roads clear.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and mild instead of severe and irritating.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound; known by their olive color. Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with constipation and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two at bedtime for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Seven Bodies Of Victims Of Lakewood, N. J., Fire Are Recovered

BELIEVE EIGHT MORE ARE DEAD

(International News Service)

LAKEWOOD, N. J., Feb. 13.—While grief-stricken relatives assisted, rescuers and town officials today searched ruins of the Victoria Mansion Hotel which already has given up seven bodies. At least eight additional persons are believed to have been burned to death when fire destroyed the frame structure yesterday morning.

The victims were mostly residents of New York and vicinity, who had come to the hotel resort for Lincoln's birthday. Condition of the recovered bodies made identification difficult. Loss of the hotel register in the blaze prevented an accurate check on the number of persons missing.

Five Identified

Two bodies at the De Roche Undertaking establishment here may be those of Robert Eller, 4, and his sister Florence, 14 months, children of Mrs. Irene Eller, who is missing. Little Marilyn Louise Marko, 5, who managed to climb down a fire escape while her panic-stricken mother perished, was taken to relatives in New York.

Five of the seven bodies recovered have been identified. They were those of Harry Ehrlich, 29; Mrs. Ruth Sherman, 28; Miss Mildred Fischer, 22; Runya Feldman, 5; and Charles Abramowitz, 5, all of New York.

IOWANS FEEL BRUNT OF WINTER

With the intense cold blanketing the major portion of the United States, Iowa has been the most seriously affected. Householders were unable to buy coal for two weeks and were only able to purchase small quantities of groceries, meat and milk. Main highways were gradually being opened after Iowa experienced the worst blizzard in 40 years. Farmers in Iowa and the Dakotas were forced to burn corn cobs and stalks to keep warm in frail houses literally banked to the rooftops with snow.

AROUND CITY HALL

Through arrangements made by Police Chief John F. Haven traffic was handled exceptionally good during the Republican rally parade from the P. & L. E. siding, through East Washington street yesterday.

There was not one single misuse. Before the event occurred Chief Haven assigned all the traffic police to positions and they ably carried out their duties.

It is anticipated that soon golf members will set prices for the Municipal course this season. The prices effective last year were: Season membership (adult) $10.00; family membership (man and wife) $15.00; juvenile membership (under 21 years of age) $5.00; full membership required for all over age of 21 years $10.00; Green fees for each nine holes, $0.25; Green fees for Mondays (except when this day falls on a holiday or is the day observed as such) for 18 holes payable up to 3 p. m. $0.25; Caddy fees, nine holes $0.30 and 18 holes, $0.55.

It is sincerely hoped that the windshield of the new Fords which were bought recently by city council will be of bulletproof glass. To start a police auto minus a bulletproof windshield in pursuit of a bandit car is folly. The present cars are equipped with bulletproof glass.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath indicated yesterday that as soon as the Civil service board for police functions he will request a list of eligibles for the police force which is short. No better insurance against disorder can be had than an alert police department kept up to quota.

Students Prepare For Three-Act Play

"R. U. R." Will Be Presented By Westminster Players In Little Theatre

(Special To The News)
NEW WASHINGTON, O., Feb. 13.—The first three-act play of the year, "R. U. R.", will be presented by the Little Theatre of Westminster college February 19-22 inclusive, under the direction of Professor Albert T. Cordray.

The play is a satire on the "machine age" and takes place on an imaginary island about the year 1943. Machinery has been developed to such a high degree that mankind, no longer necessary, is dying out. Laboratories have been constructed which manufacture robots, a race of men and women without souls or emotions, who do all the work of mankind.

Suddenly the manufacturer of the robots discovers that the formula for making robots is lost and only one human being is left in the world, himself. The world faces extinction, when suddenly a robot and a robotess fall in love to save creation.

All of the furnishings are modern, and are being constructed from old furniture. Robots will be dressed in various shades of blue; all stage settings will be in white. The scenes are in the laboratory and in the manufacturing plant where robots are made.

The case will be made up of the following: Domin, plant manufacturer, Avalon LeMonte, Mt. Lebanon; Sulla, a robotess, Dorothy Tinker, Pittsburgh; Marius, a robot, John Ruffalo, Youngstown, O.; Helena Glory, a plant visitor, Virginia McCown, Mt. Lebanon; Hallemeier, psychological specialist in plant, Ed Brown, South Orange, N. J.; Consul Buman, business manager, Robert Grier, Mt. Lebanon; Fabry, chief technical expert, Russell Bowen Harrisburg; Dr. Gall, chief of psychological department, Carroll Anderson, Mercer; Mr. Alquist, head of building department, Walter Bibberich, New Castle; Radius, leader of robot rebellion, Dave Kennedy.

Costumes are being made by Miss Isabelle Mackay, Oil City, technical assistant, Dorothy Tinker, Pittsburgh, and bookholder, Sally Smith, New Wilmington.

Don't poke hairpins, matches or other instruments into the ear to remove foreign bodies, as infection of the external ear and injury to the drumhead may result.

New Castle At Beaver Falls Friday Night

New Castle High "Red Hurricanes" May Surprise Beaver Falls Five

New Castle High School "Red Hurricanes" basketball team will go to Beaver Falls, Pa., Friday night for a return floor engagement with the league leading Section Three team. The reserves of both schools will play the preliminary game starting at 7 o'clock.

It was Beaver Falls victory over the New Castles here that started the Bridenbaughmen on the skidding path to third place in the league being leaders so long. New Beaver Falls is on top. New Castle would dearly love to put the skids under the McCandless coached machine tomorrow night.

Out Of Race
As far as New Castle is concerned there is no sectional title race anymore, but they can make it tough for Beaver Falls High tomorrow night. A Beaver Falls victory Friday will put the old cinchers on the sectional gamelan, for the second year.

New Castle will end its basketball season at home on Friday night, February 21, with Butler High here. There is a lot of rivalry between the two schools and the game will no doubt be one of the hardest fought of the year. It has always been tough for the Beaver Fallians to take the New Castle team at Beaver Falls. It's strange, but nevertheless true, New Castle generally gets pretty hot on that big spacious floor.

Two Other Games
The other Section Three battles for Friday night will be as follows: New Brighton at Ellwood City, Butler at Aliquippa.

Following is the standing of the league at the present time:

W. L.	Pct.
Beaver Falls	8 1 .889
Aliquippa	6 3 .667
New Castle	6 4 .600
Butler	5 4 .556
New Brighton	4 5 .556
Ellwood City	2 8 .200
Ambridge	1 9 .100

Hitler And His Cabinet Attend Winter Olympics

Norway Athletes Skate Way Into Championship Of Winter Sports Today

(International News Service)
GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Feb. 13.—With Herr Hitler and members of his cabinet gracing the occasion with their presence for the second time, Norway practically skated its way into the unofficial winter sports program today, while successive records were broken.

Both Charley Mathiesen and Ivar Ballangrud, the Norwegians, skated under the old record in placing one in the 1,500 meters speed skating championship, with Leo Freisinger, Chicago, the only American capable of giving the foreign field a run. Freisinger placed fourth, which with his third at 500 metres, 2:19, 2:10, Chicagoan seven points for the games so far.

Ballangrud, winner of two previous titles here, was the first record-breaker, doing 2:20 2-10 for the distance, beating the old mark by 6-10 of a second. But Mathiesen later came along and did 2:19 2-10. Third place went to Birgit Vasenius, Finland, in 2:20 9-10, with Freisinger fourth in 2:21 3-10.

Spears Denies Being Headed For Cornell U.

(International News Service)
MADISON, Wis., Feb. 13.—Dr. Clarence W. Spears, Wisconsin football coach, was vehemently ambiguous today when queried regarding published reports he is being considered for the coaching job left vacant at Cornell by the resignation of Gil Dobie.

"As far as I know my name is not under consideration for the job at Cornell," the roly-poly Spears declared.

Asked if he had applied for the position, Spears repeated his statement—more loudly.

Spears, Director of Athletics Walter Meanwell and other athletic department members and athletes are involved in the athletic controversy here which will be settled tomorrow when the board of regents announces the result of its investigation of the situation. Charges and counter-charges have marked the bitter controversy.

Braddock Wants To Battle Louis

Champion Is Tired Sitting Around While Louis Makes All The Money

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—After thinking very deeply for several days, Mr. Joe Gould was able to announce today what steps he planned to take in the interests of seeing that James J. Braddock is adequately challenged for the world's heavyweight championship this year, absolutely without fail. Mr. Gould, as Braddock's manager, simply will not stand for any shilly-shallying and irresolution on this.

Joe Louis is to go in there and hit Braddock with his Saturday, Sunday and half-holiday punch, as previously understood by all, or Mr. Gould will take steps, said he, darkly.

Will Make Demand
To this end, it seems that he's going down to the boxing commission presently and demand that the challenger accept the champion's deft. The law, it appears, has no right to deny a man the privilege of losing the heavyweight championship and, if the challenger doesn't want to step up there and take his victory like a man, there should be ways of making him.

If that doesn't work, then Mr. Gould means to have Braddock pursue Louis and Max Schmeling all the way into the ring at the Yankee stadium in June and challenge the winner over the loud speaker. "The commission must recognize that we have some rights," said Mr. Gould, morosely. "The Louis people say they don't expect to fight for the championship until 1937. Joe Jacobs then comes along and says the same thing for Schmeling."

"What is the commission going to license this fight for, if not to establish who the challenger is, and if he's the challenger, why doesn't he get to it? Braddock is supposed to sit around for twenty-four months and wait for these guys to make all the money, is that it?"

Training School For Game Protectors Of State Being Planned

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 13.—Pennsylvania will inaugurate the first permanent training school for game field officers in the United States, according to plans announced yesterday at the fifth annual convention of the State Federation of Sportsmen's clubs here.

Approximately 200 club delegates and members heard Seth E. Gordon, executive secretary of the State Game Commission, outline the plan shortly after the commission released for the first time the official figures on the game kill of the past season.

Approved By Earle
The school, already approved by Gov. George H. Earle and expected to be started about the first of April, will be located at Brookline, in Jefferson county. Although the new program will not mean an increased administrative staff, it will radically alter present methods of selecting officers to enforce the state's game and fish laws. Where vacancies occur, replacements will be selected from the training school's membership, rather than by individual examination as in the past.

Gordon pointed out the training method will parallel the school for the state's highway patrolmen and state police.

Almost three score hunters died from accidents during the season which saw the killing of 70,470 deer and almost two million cottontail rabbits.

The total deer kill was approximately 25,000 less than the all-time record kill of 95,000 established in 1931.

Antlerless deer killed totaled 46,663, while legal male deer slain amounted to 23,807. A total of 402 bear were killed, with these figures on other game: Cottontail rabbits, 1,971,505; snowshoe rabbits, 8,659; squirrels, 1,193,856; ringneck pheasants, 281,000; wild turkeys, 4,498; ruffed grouse, 199,955; quail, 217,247.

Large game accidents among hunters during the season totaled 62, composed of 24 fatalities and 38 non-fatal accidents, while 243 small

Wildlife In Need Of Food

Izaak Walton League Makes Appeal To Sportsmen

FEEDING STATIONS SHOULD BE BUILT

"Save us, please."

They can't say it that way. Neither can they edge up to you and ask the price of a meal, nor apply to a welfare society for aid—but their mute appeal, coming from the woods and fields is all the more poignant.

Wildlife needs help and the Pennsylvania Division of the Izaak Walton League and its affiliated chapters are doing their utmost to help the furred and feathered creatures now so badly in need of food. The "league" is also making an earnest plea to all sportsmen, farmers, landowners, conservationists, wildlife lovers and other interested persons to help "feed small game and birds - - - now."

The succession of snow, sleet and frigid weather that has blanketed the state for more than a month, has worked hardship and suffering on the human inhabitants, but not nearly so much as on the creatures of the woods. Their food supply is buried under ice and snow and the only possible way they can exist is from human aid. They need food - - - now - - - and plenty of it, or thousands of quail, rabbits, pheasants, grouse and other upland birds and animals will die of starvation. Many of them already have.

The Pennsylvania Division of the Izaak Walton League in sending out its appeal to feed game, also lists a variety of methods, found practical by their members during previous years, for the distribution of food so that wildlife will receive the maximum of benefit with a minimum of danger from their enemies.

Feeding stations which should be established wherever game birds are present, should be located to the best interest of the birds and furred animals. They should be able to visit the feeding station unduly exposing themselves to predators.

Good Places For Shelters
Good places are the borders of swamps and swales, weed patches, brushy fence rows and their junctions, dense clumps of evergreens or the side of woodlots and brushy ravines. The construction of lean-to shelters consisting of small poles, with the entrance to the south is greatly advisable. This can easily be accomplished by nailing a pole crosswise to a tree and then laying the transverse poles against it. The poles can also be laid against the top rail of a fence or suitable brush.

All shelters should be about six feet square and the poles spaced about eight inches apart. Bundles of unthreshed grain with the heads extending downward beneath the poles make a good covering. Beneath the shelter loose grain and several handfuls of grit should be thrown.

Loose shocks of corn with the ears intact also make excellent feeding stations, the Izaak Walton League has found. Sportsmen are advised to tie the top of the shock with twine and spread the bottom so as to permit the birds and rabbits to enter. To complete the station, strip the husk from some of the ears and spread some grit around. Ears of corn impaled on saplings leaned against a tree has also been approved as a good method to feed game birds.

"A few hours work, 'now', in erecting shelters and providing food and feeding stations, will prevent much suffering and high mortality among wildlife," said Dr. Wm. H. Moore, former member of the game commission and president of the Pennsylvania Division of the "league," in sending out his appeal. "The present heavy snow and ice represents a critical period for wildlife," he continued, "and the winter's toll can easily exceed that taken by hunters and predators, annually."

The Izaak Waltonians also recommended that wherever practical, sportsmen obtain their supplies from farmers, who will not appreciate the small income but also the spirit behind it.

Boxer Dies From Blow Under Heart

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—A worried prize fighter, Lorenzo "Pete" Pedro, who was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Eddie Kimm, 24, boxer, told authorities today: "I didn't mean to hurt him—honest, I didn't."

Kimm succumbed to a sharp blow under the heart. Pedro delivered the blow while boxing with Kimm at a gymnasium here.

Both boxers were wearing large-sized gloves of 12 ounces.

County Quintets Will Play Friday

Shenango Will Play At East Brook, Mt. Jackson At New Wilmington

UNION MARS ARE SCHEDULED

Two important high school battles will take place in the Lawrence County High School league Friday night, it was announced today.

A Section 22 league game will find the Shenango high tossers, recent conquerors of Mt. Jackson high, going to the East Brook high floor for a battle with Coach DeWitt Emerick's East Brookians. The East Brookies have a little score to settle with the East New Castles, due to a setback suffered at the Shenango high floor earlier in the year.

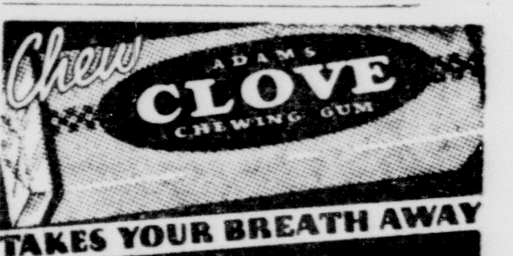

Mt. Jackson high will be up New Wilmington way to battle with Johnny Eagleson and his New Wilmington high boys. This should be a fast game, as the College Town quintet is primed to take the measure of the Mt. Jacksonians.

Union high will entertain Mars high Friday night in a Section 18 league battle. Both the Mars boys and girls teams will come here.

SHOER OF OXEN IS LAST OF HIS CLAN

(International News Service)

HALIFAX, Mass.—Last of his clan is Jared B. Baker, 63, blacksmith and chairman of the Halifax selectmen. He is the only shoer of oxen left on Cape Cod, perhaps the only one in New England. All the oxen left hereabouts are shod in his 90-year-old shop. The ox frame is a narrow stall into which an ox is driven, locked and belted. The stall is lifted and the oxen's feet are fastened to the sides. Baker refused to accept an offer from the Henry Ford museum to buy the frame.

The Falcons will play the K. P. laski "Big Five" at the Pulaski hall on Sunday afternoon, this being the first of a three-game series for the city championship.

Professor Is Found
Cheating For PupilTakes Place Of Pupil In Exam,
But False Mustache Gave Him Away(International News Service)
CALCUTTA—A remarkable and probably unique case of impersonation in which a well-known university professor in disguise took the place of one of his pupils at an examination for a degree resulted in a jail sentence for the professor, A. K. Gupta, of Ripon College.

Samaresh Chandra Mookerjee, his pupil, who was charged with aiding and abetting the offenses, was acquitted. The professor first aroused the suspicions of those in charge of the examination by occupying a wrong seat in the examination hall, the suspicions were further intensified by the professor's unusual appearance, since very few candidates wear dark glasses when engaged in writing work. It was an electric fan whirling above the professor's head, however, which was to prove his final undoing. Before the astonished and fascinated gaze of the officials in charge the false moustache succumbed to the breeze from the fan and blew away.

Hoover Assails Administration

Former President Makes Fiery Speech At Portland Last Night

ALL CONFUSION IN NATION, IS CHARGE

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 13.—Inspired by former president Herbert Hoover's fiery Lincoln day speech here in which he issued a ringing denunciation of President Roosevelt's New Deal policies, Republican leaders in the Pacific Northwest today took their cue and began drawing battle lines for the hectic 1936 presidential campaign.

Mr. Hoover's speech, his most fiery attack to date on the Roosevelt administration, contained sharp barbs at inflationary monetary policies and at the present government budget, which he declared was "the worst balanced budget in history."

The subject of the former president's speech was "The Confused State of the Union."

All Is Confusion

He charged the present administration was responsible "for confusion in thought, confusion in government, confusion in economic life and confusion in ideals."

The present administration has solved only "a few national problems," and has inspired fear in the nation, Mr. Hoover charged.

"The New Deal has been a veritable fountain of fear," he said. "The day after the New Deal was given life at the election of 1932 began the great fear which created the bank panic of March 4. The stock boom today is not from confidence in the future—it is partly from fear of inflation."

President Roosevelt's report to congress on the state of the union was "confusing," Mr. Hoover said.

"Three years ago the president gave the comforting assurance that 'the money-changers have fled from their high seats in the temple of our civilization.' It would appear that after three years of the New Deal they have all come back again with helpers."

"Also I have the impression that the New Deal had taken over the business of changing the money."

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Le on h a r d 's prescription—HEM-ROID—to relieve itching, bleeding or protruding piles. This internal medicine acts quickly even in old stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it helps to heal and restore the affected parts and relieves blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting often fail. Bolder's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co., and all druggists say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must relieve you of your Pile misery or money back.

PIMPLE VICTIM'S TRUE STORY

Here's a remarkable tribute to Cuticura from one who suffered from externally caused pimples, telling how to obtain quick relief.

"My face was disfigured for about five years and I used different remedies without success, but after I had used Cuticura Soap and I use of Cuticura Ointment, I had no more pimples." Miss B. S. Car.

Pool Room Men Meet With Mayor

McGrath Informs Proprietors They Will Have To Live Up To Law

Approximately a score of proprietors of billiard and pool rooms met with Mayor Charles E. McGrath at his request yesterday. The meeting was held in city hall.

He requested that if anyone of them were violating the law that they refrain from doing so, else the mayor had an obligation to perform, from which he would not shrink.

He advised proprietors that boys under 18 years of age were not permitted in billiard rooms and declared gambling is against the law. He said that if a proprietor cannot earn profits without permitting gambling, the law does not guarantee them profits when they are given permission to operate.

Mayor McGrath said that anonymous complaints against pool rooms would not be considered, but that bonafide complaints would be acted upon.

True Blue Circle Valentine Party

Club Of Y. W. C. A. Girls Has Enjoyable Party In Gymnasium

On Tuesday evening the True Blue Circle met in the gymnasium to hold their valentine party. A radio had been installed to facilitate the dancing which filled the early part of the evening. The girls who had brought skates then took command, the experts assisting the beginners. One end of the gym was turned over to all girls interested in basketball "skeleton work," while another group adjourned to the basement for a period of bowling. Popular songs of the day were sung while Miss Mabel McCandless assisted at the piano.

The second part of the evening was devoted to a basketball game with a number of Energetic Girls rounding out the number of girls needed. Miss Dorothy Stewart officiated in the capacity of referee.

At ten-thirty the group retired for refreshments. The decoration committee comprising Mary Giacomini and Frances Bloise, had attractively decorated the room in traditional valentine colors, red and white. A huge red heart graced the center of the table about which the guests of honor, Mrs. Jennie Ostroski, Miss McCandless and Miss Stewart were grouped. Tall red tapers were lit and the refreshments consumed by candle light. Credit for the appropriate menu goes to the refreshment committee, Denise Radan, Frances Sakowski, Hilda Bodendorfer, Fay Maricome and Mildred Bekoski. After the last bit of cake and ice cream had been consumed, Frances Bloise and Mary Giacomini distributed the valentines which had been deposited in a gay red and white valentine box. The guests received chocolate hearts from the club as a whole. The clean-up committee, Mary Sakoki, Ruby Matetich, Pauline Blazie, Ann Turkovich, Helen Turkovich and Stella Boron proceeded with dispatch to reduce the room to some semblance of order.

There will be no club meeting next Tuesday at the Y. W. C. A. Instead the girls are asked to meet in a group at the corner of Washington and Mill to go in a body to the St. Nicholas church for a basketball game between the Slovak girls and the True Blue Circle, at 7:30 p. m.

There will be basketball practice at the Y. W. C. A. on Friday, February 14, at 9 o'clock in the evening.
